

Day 22 — Session Behaviour & Timing Advantage

Goal Today:

Understand market timing

Identify high-volatility periods

Avoid dead & trap zones

Core Truth

Market has personality changes during the day.

Time = Context.

1 Why Sessions Matter

Different sessions bring:

- Different participants
- Different liquidity
- Different volatility

That's why:

- Some hours trend strongly
- Some hours are choppy
- Some hours are trap-heavy

2 Major Global Sessions

Asian Session

- Slower movement
- Range-bound behaviour
- Liquidity buildup

🇬🇧 London Session

- Strong momentum
- Breakouts common
- Volatility expansion

🇺🇸 US Session

- High liquidity
- Sharp reversals
- Strong continuation moves

3 Opening Range Behaviour

First 15–30 minutes:

- ✓ High volatility
- ✓ Stop hunts common
- ✓ Liquidity collection

Rule:

- 👉 Avoid immediate trades
- 👉 Let first range form

4 London Breakout Behaviour

Often:

- ✓ Breaks Asian range
- ✓ High momentum
- ✓ Real directional moves

Best strategy:

- 👉 Trade breakout after retest
- 👉 Avoid pre-break guessing

TradingView

Often:

- ✓ Volatility spike
- ✓ Fake breakout + reversal
- ✓ Trend acceleration

Rule:

- 👉 Be careful during transition
- 👉 Watch liquidity sweeps

6 Mid-Day Dead Zone

Characteristics:

- ✗ Low volume
- ✗ Sideways movement
- ✗ Fake signals

Best action:

- 👉 No trading
- 👉 Protect mental energy

7 Session + Structure Combo

High-probability setup:

- ✓ HTF trend aligned
- ✓ Liquidity sweep
- ✓ Session open volatility
- ✓ Volume expansion

That's powerful alignment.

8 Today's Practical Exercise

Mark on chart:

1. Session open times
2. Opening range
3. Session high/low
4. Breakouts & fakeouts

Observe behaviour difference.

Max:

👉 2 paper trades

Only during active session.

9 End-of-Day Reflection

1. Did I trade during high-liquidity time?
2. Did I avoid mid-day boredom trades?
3. Did session timing improve confidence?
4. Did I see volatility pattern clearly?

Day 22 Mindset Rule
