

HOW TO RECOVER TRADING LOSS

I am going to tell you the process from experience so it will help you to start a profitable journey.

- madhura kadam

STRATEGY

Very important part of trading is strategy. one strategy that will make money for you. In this process of our profitable trading journey we try lot of trading strategies in the search of fortune making strategy.

you need understand first such strategy doesn't exist in the world. so stop and try to find one strategy with average to good accuracy. select such strategy which you can execute.

In the process of trading you doesn't need to trade intraday compulsory if you don't get time try swing strategies.

every strategy is good you just need to stick with one dont hop from one strategy to another one. if your applying any strategy first try with very little quantity. most of the trader try to take 10 -15 lots on first trade of new strategy and lose hope. again go in the search of perfect strategy that doesnt exist in the world.

Strategy can be any option strategy or chart strategy with indicator strategy or price action. every strategy has some advantages and disadvantages. as a individual first try objective of any strategy work on that if you select option buying strategy with ema crossover. it has different advantages and disadvantages than doing option selling on crossovers. so don't try to mix them all. we as a beginner make only make mistake here.

if you are trading on crossovers or any strategy with option buying. only do option buying for 3 months don't try option selling or stock buying with same strategy your result will vary.

In search of any strategy don't try to master in 1 week . you will get know as you trade more on more strategy. so every strategy is trial and error but we need to accept you can't master in one day.
so give at least 3 months to one strategy.

TRADE PLAN

In the process of loss recovery we need perfect trade plan to execute strategy.

first thing you need to know is trading plan is need to follow everyday.

how to plan a trade - find suitable stoploss as per strategy. take quantity as per your stoploss. only risk 1 % of capital in 1 trade not more that as we dont want another dent in our trading capital.

you can execute better trade plan in intraday beacause no chances of gapup and gapdown. so better to play in intraday.

as you lose confidence you get scared to take trade beacause of fear to make loss. if you think same in this way just reduce your position size you need build confidence first than capital.

mentally strong trader can only earn again from market.

write daily mistakes what you have done and read all before you take trade.
minimise loss now or regret later

Try to take minimum trades in one day.

Dont lose all profit after profitable day.

quit screen if you get good profit for day.

take minimum risk in next trade after getting profits.

Dont try to recover loss if your day limit is over for losses.

First try to protect profits gain confidence as i am saying again and again confidence is very important key element for profitable trader.

PSYCHOLOGICAL CHALLENGE

Due to fear of losses you make more losses. so you need to overcome this fear.

how can anyone overcome fear of losing - as i said early pages choose strategy, and then make trade plan after that only buy or sell such quantity so we will be zero tensed.

Emotions - Dont attach emotions in any trade. do your chart analysis before taking trade not after taking trade. after taking trade either wait for stoploss or target. slowly slowly you will get a habit of holding trade with patience

Take gap of 1 day if your thinking much more about recovering losses. mental peace is more important in trading.

DON'T ALWAYS THINK FOR RECOVERING LOSSES

there are high chances you will take wrong decision after thinking of recovering losses. treat capital as a new capital forget about losses more focus on trade plan strategy.

I made lot of wrong trading decision due to such thinking you take wrong position size try to recover in 1 trade or as fast as possible. but there lot of chances you are going to lose remaining capital too. so get out of this thinking is much more important to overcome losses.

always try to take trade with positive attitude.

TIME

Its easy to lose in market than earning from market. so dont expect quick recovery as quick you made losses.

Give time to market if you get frusted by market your profitable journey is going too take much more time.

BEST OF LUCK

Try to control on yourself,
you are the only reason to lose in market so stop blaming others.

If you need any trading help regarding your doubts, need advise about recovering losses please dm me on twitter i will try to answer your questions

@madhurakadam01