If you have been following me on YouTube lately, you know that I help Traders reach their full trading potential.

The aim is to be the bridge between who Traders currently are and who they want to become.

With that being said, the concepts mentioned in belong to "The Inner Circle Trader".

BALANCED PRICE RANGE THEORY

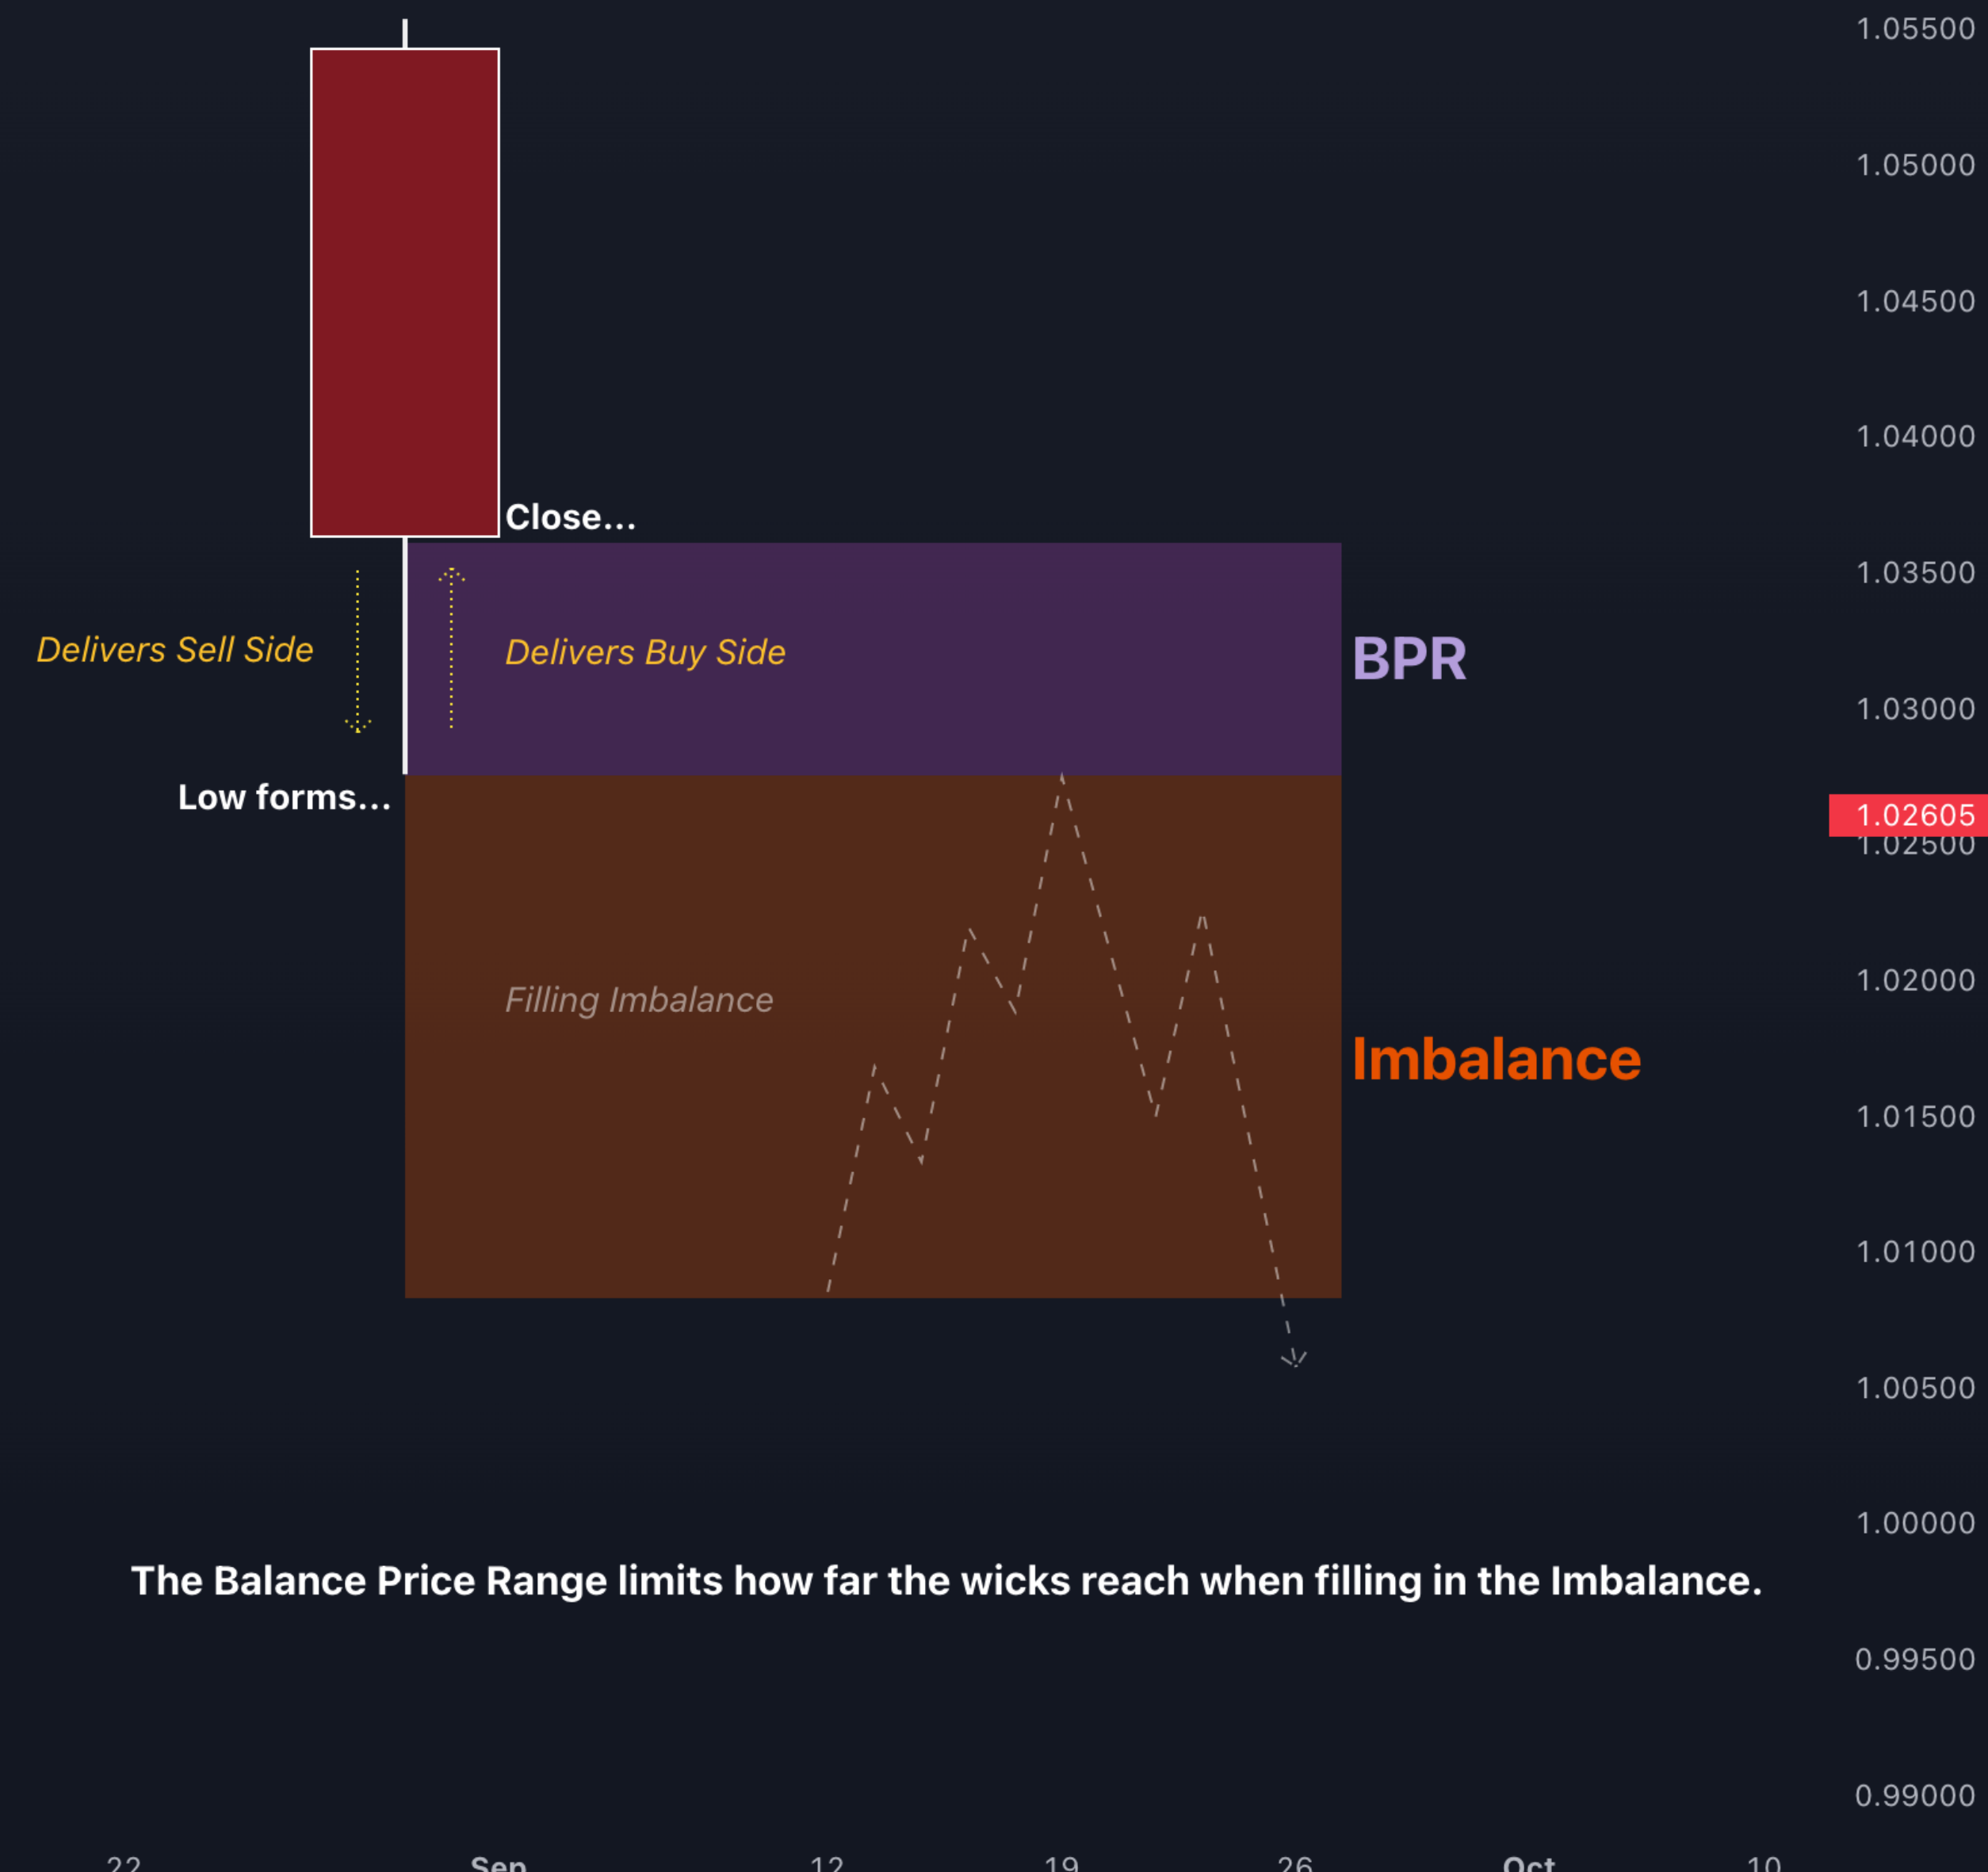

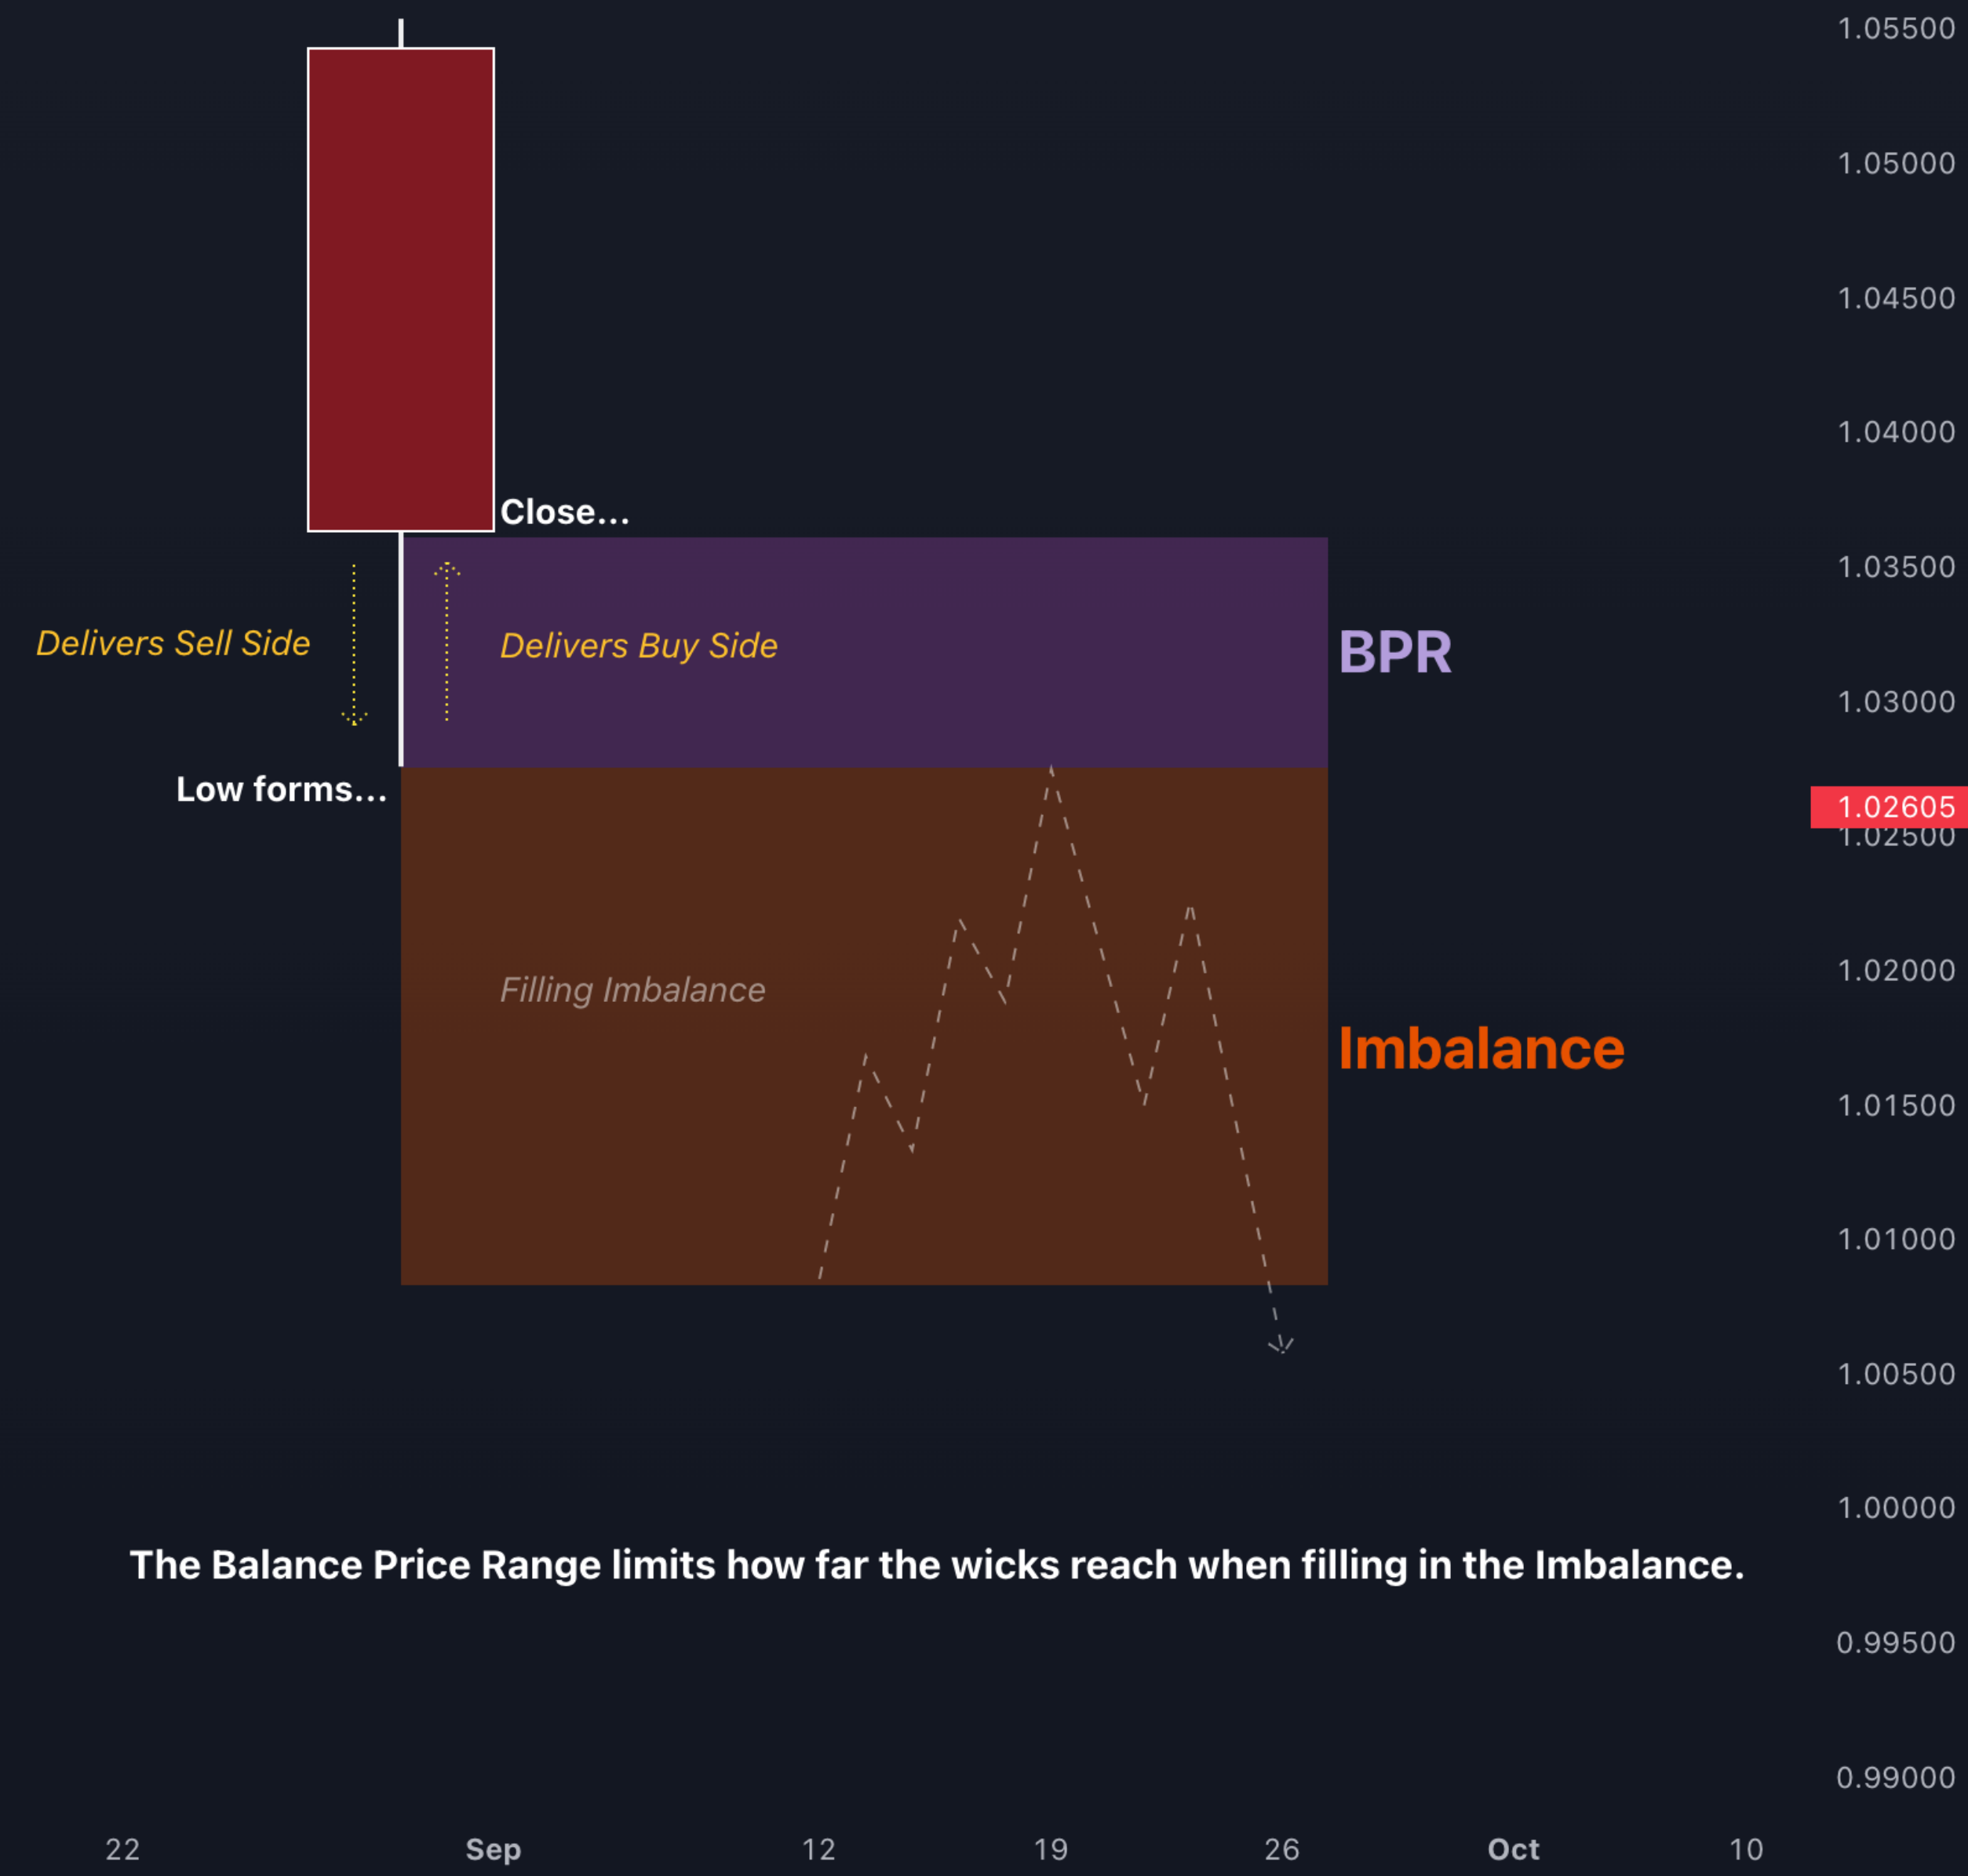

How did the BPR form?

How did the BPR form?

This is when to leave certain areas of the Imbalance open.

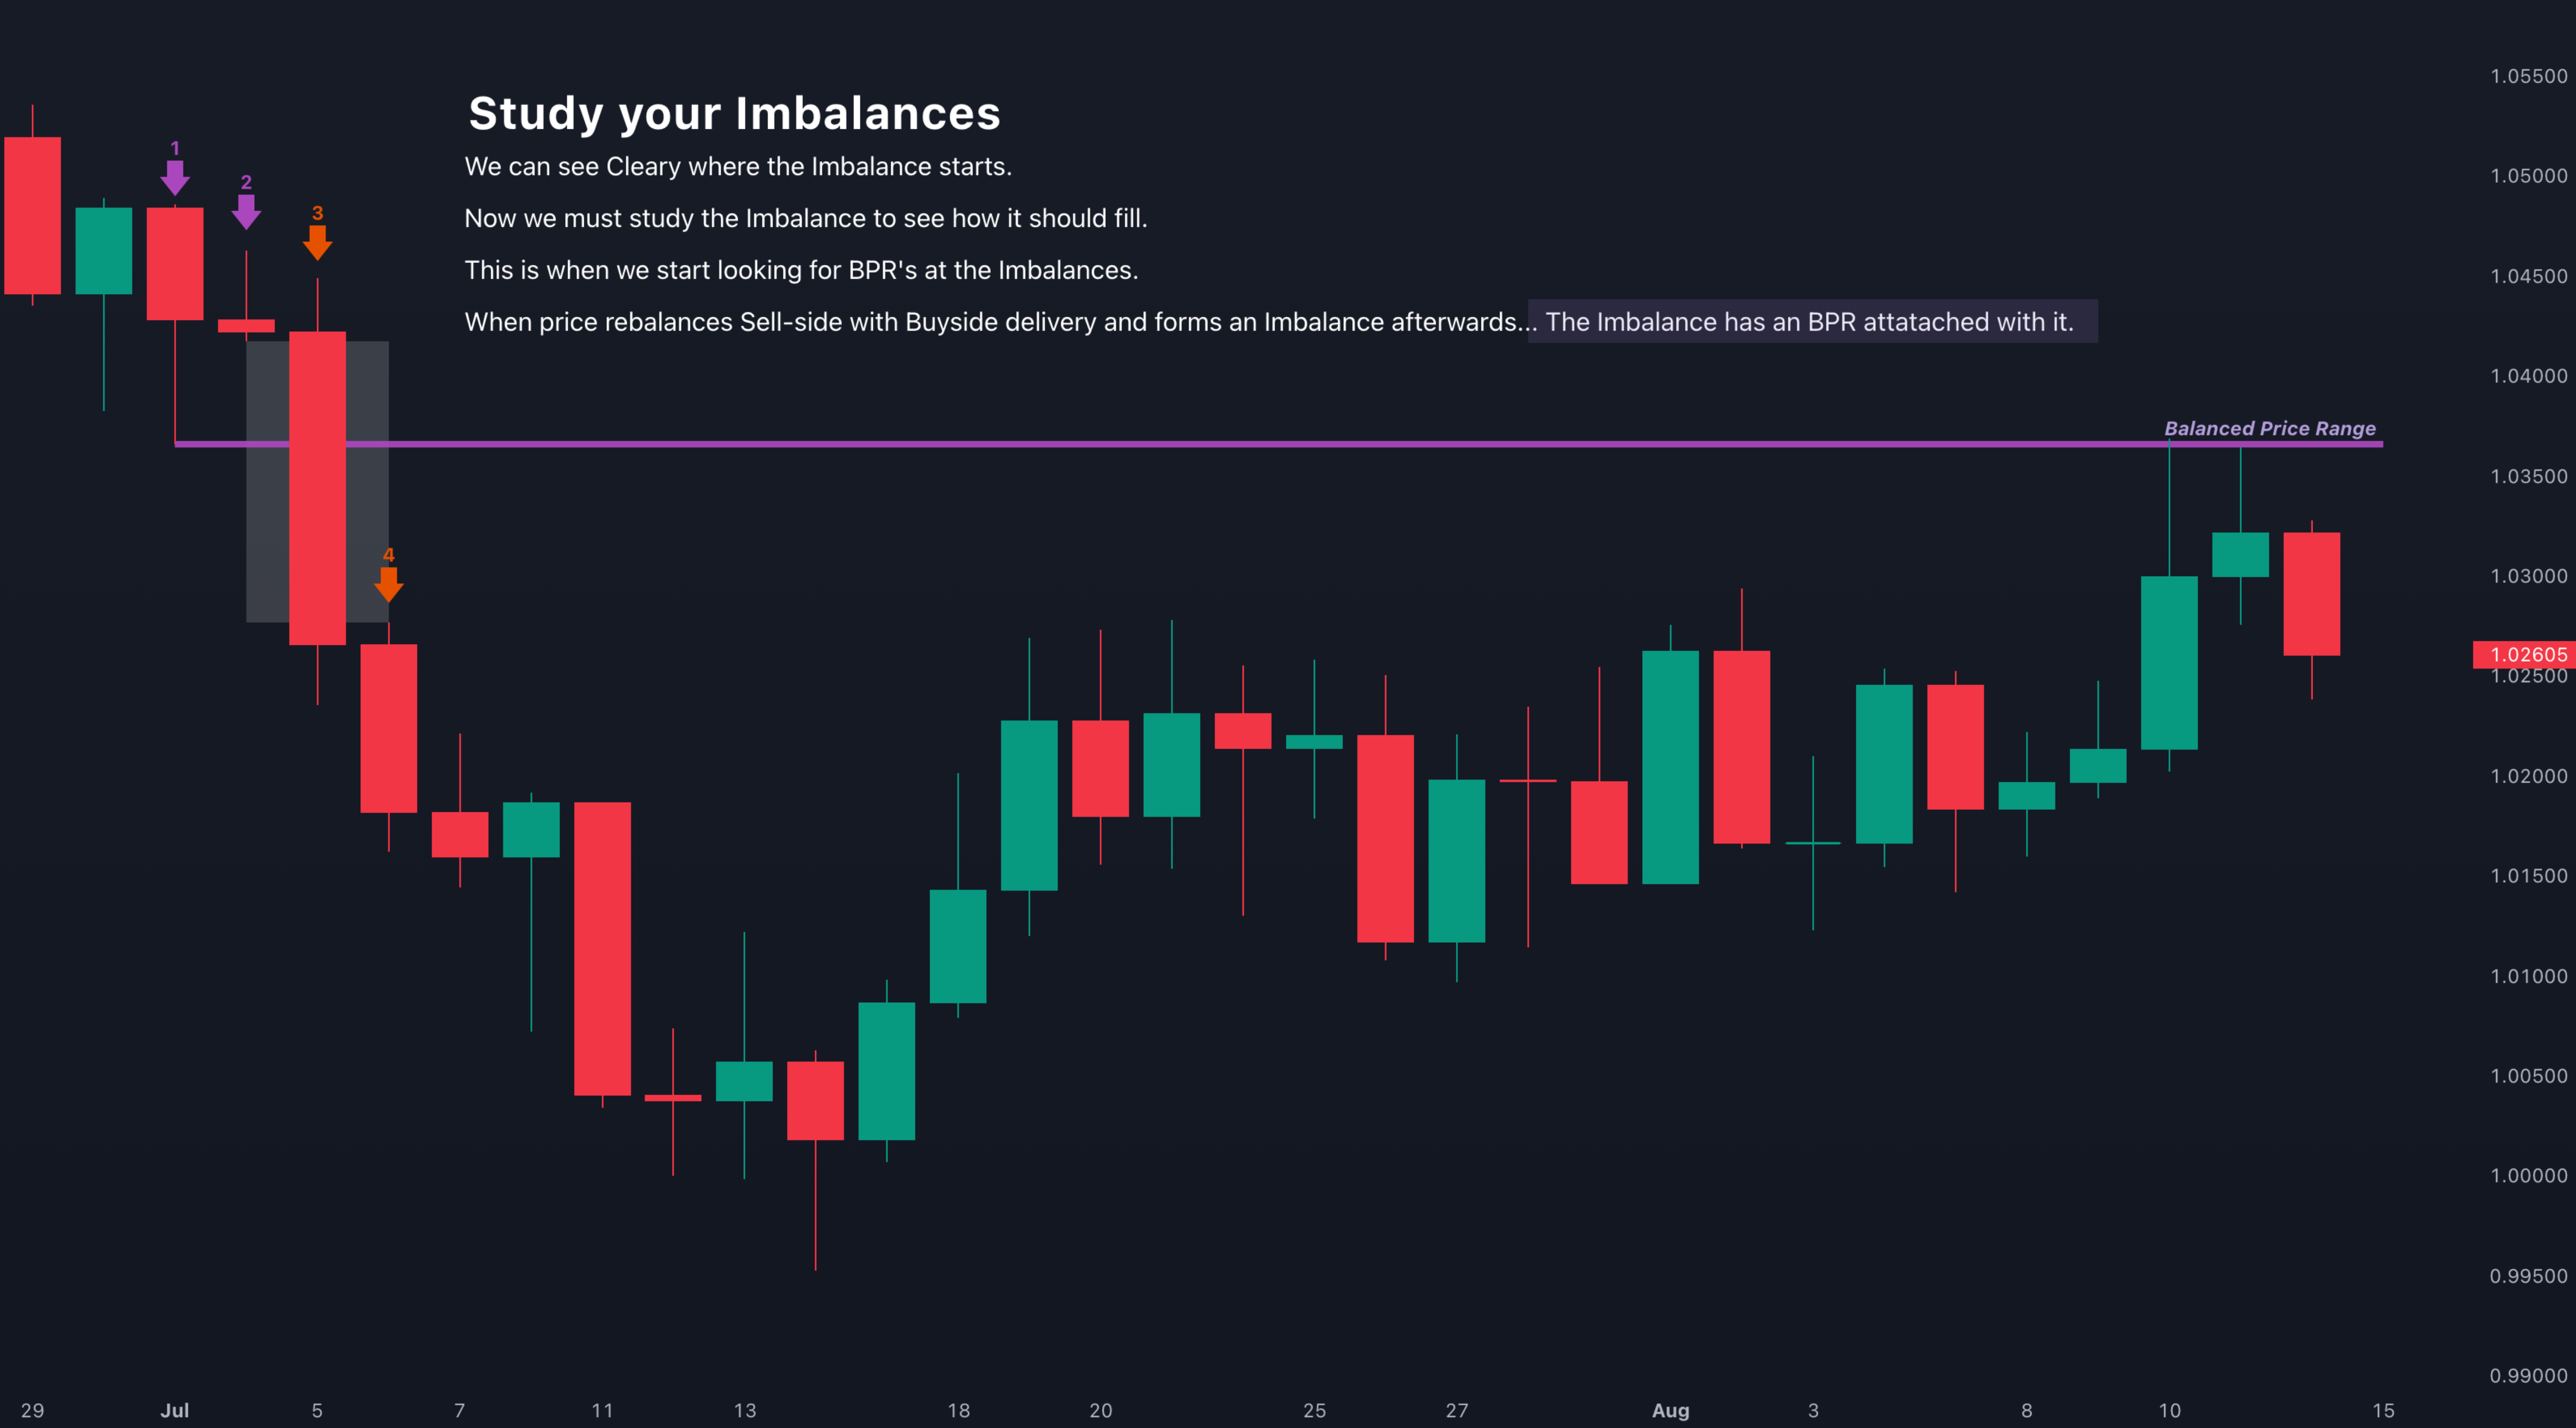

Study your Imbalances

We can see Clearly where the Imbalance starts.

Now we must study the Imbalance to see how it should fill.

This is when we start looking for BPR's at the Imbalances.

When price rebalances Sell-side with Buyside delivery and forms an Imbalance afterwards... The Imbalance has an BPR attatached with it.

Redelivery VS Rebalance

When price fills in an Imbalance, this is called what we refer to as Redelivery.

When price delivers Sell-side and Buy-side, then displaces outside of that range, we refer to this as Rebalancing.

When an section of Price Action is Rebalanced, IPDA will guard that area heavily.

Redelivery VS Rebalance

When price fills in an Imbalance, this is called what we refer to as Redelivery.

When price delivers Sell-side and Buy-side, then displaces outside of that range, we refer to this as Rebalancing.

When an section of Price Action is Rebalanced, IPDA will guard that area heavily.
It will only be necessary for price to fill in the "Real sell-side Imbalance."

The Balanced Price Range will limit how far the wicks need to dig into the Imbalance.

The remaining portion of the Imbalance will be left open.
