PREFACE

"Never become so scientific or religious that you forget to be human."

—MRS KATE HENDERSON

THE FOREGOING MOTTO, adopted by the writer in teaching and practicing this Hebrew system of numerology, he received from a beautiful character when he was quite young. The lady who gave him this advice is no longer physically present, but the impression her timely advice made has, until now, kept him in the middle of the road. This saying conveys the idea that there is a right way and a wrong way in studying any subject. We need to digest our mental and spiritual food as we do the food we take into our mouths. Fanaticism is the greatest enemy to truth.

Not until we find an equilibrium in life are we ready to advance in understanding the meaning of life, for the student must relieve himself of preconceived ideas, carelessness of investigation, the taking of hasty conclusions and self-conceit before he is in a position to learn. He needs to realize the vastness of wisdom and what little any one person knows in comparison with it.

When we sometimes find sincere students of Truth in schools of thought that are not thoroughly sound it simply means that up to the present they have found something that appeals to their reason, but when the real motive underlying the teaching is detected by them they will no longer identify themselves with it. Nevertheless, they will not throw away the truth they have learned here with the falsehood but they will retain the good and credit the source from whom they receive it.

What is the Hebrew Quaballah? It is, according to the Hebrews, a received revelation from God. The numerology of the Quaballah is but one of its subjects. What is numerology? I agree with the definition of Walter B. Gibson who said,

"The science of numerology is the practical application of the fundamental laws of mathematics to the material existence of man."

From the beginning my policy has been to teach and practice this science independently of the religious field and therefore I founded the Studio of Psychoanalysis by Numbers.

Each lesson of the course taught herein is preceded by an introduction to it.

As author, it is my desire that these pages will benefit all seekers of truth.

THE SUCCESS STORY OF NELSON-HALL AND WHAT IT CAN MEAN TO YOU

NELSON-HALL COMPANY performs what is probably the most interesting educational work in America. Let me tell you a little bit about it . . . and let me tell you, also, how you might benefit by fitting yourself into this self-instruction program.

This unusual organization has helped many thousands. In helping these countless thousands get ahead we have helped America. To what extent, no one can say . . . but the help has been substantial.

What and who is Nelson-Hall? If this is your first contact with us I can answer your questions better by making plain, at the start, just what we are not.

Way back in 1909 this concern was established. But the streamlined educational methods we are using now are comparatively recent developments, based on many years experience. Although it is something new in America, already more than 200,000 students have used our unique service.

LOW-PRICED, PRACTICAL SELF-INSTRUCTION COURSES

I should make it very plain that we are not a correspondence school. We never give examinations, correct lesson papers, issue diplomas. Nor are we what most people think of when they use the term "publishers and book-sellers."

Nelson-Hall is a world-renowned educational institution specializing in low-priced self-instruction study materials on all subjects. We publish many famous home-study courses. And we deal in practical educational titles of other publishers and schools . . . on subjects ranging from Accounting right through the alphabet to Mechanics and on to Xylophone Playing and Zoology.

All these different study items have at least one thing in common: they are knowledge-with-an-aim . . . for immediate practical use—to teach you how to get something done. And, as far as possible, everything is 100% self-instructing. By this I mean the printed instructions are complete in themselves. It is not necessary that you seek further explanations by writing to a correspondence school or calling in person on an instructor. This independence develops your initiative and originality.

THE FAMOUS SUCCESS-CATALOG . . . A VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE MANUAL

With this book you should have received a copy of our new Success-Catalog. (Simply send me your name and address if you need another copy. It's free.) In this copyrighted vocational guidance manual thousands of valuable courses and other educational items are brought to your attention, classified and described. Much of this excellent home-study material is available only from Nelson-Hall.

Maintaining a well-rounded list of authoritative items suitable for our use requires constant search. We insist on good, clear, accurate, logical texts . . . texts designed for self-instruction. Hundreds of sources keep us informed. The items approved are then gathered together in our stockrooms for listing in our Success-Catalog . . . which is used in every English-speaking community in the world.

Some of the educational items selected are from the better correspondence schools, some are carefully chosen from the lists of highgrade trade publishers, both American and British. When existing material on any subject does not meet our standards we assign an expert the task of making a course according to our specifications which we will then publish under the Nelson-Hall imprint.

LET US HELP YOU BE SUCCESSFUL

We have made it very easy for customer-students to deal with us. If you place an order, for instance, from our Success-Catalog or any of our special lists you will get the material, in most cases, by return mail. We ship all the printed matter in one package . . . and you then have the use of our home-study facilities, as explained in the Success-Catalog. You get, therefore, two things when you order: first, the printed matter; second, the services. The one price you pay is complete and covers everything.

While we are not a bookstore, ordering from us is just as simple as buying a book. We give you a lot more, that's all.

You see, Nelson-Hall regards books, manuals, folios, booklets, courses, bulletins, etc., just convenient vehicles for carrying knowledge economically. We sell the information they contain—we do not think of the paper and ink as "merchandise." If you are searching for practical information, for instruction of the self-study kind, for ideas, intelligence, advice . . . we specialize in this and can very likely furnish what you need.

Boiled down, what Nelson-Hall offers is SUCCESS. This frequently means making a lot of money. ("There are few ways in which a man can be more innocently employed than in getting money."—SAMUEL JOHNSON.) It also means success in taking photographs, writing beautiful poetry, developing a good memory, mastering ju jitsu. Life is broad and there are many ways of being successful.

FREEDOM OF OPPORTUNITY FOR THE AMBITIOUS

In what other ways do we help the self-reliant individual? Perhaps the most important thing he gets from Nelson-Hall is the inspiration-to-study. This is genuine. It is as typically American as the success story of Benjamin Franklin; it is deep faith in our free way of life; it is sincere belief in opportunity; it is the conviction that Man is master of his fate and captain of his soul.

This optimism looks upward but has both feet on the ground. The student gets it by indirection . . . he meets it running through all our catalogs, circulars, bulletins, personal correspondence . . . he finds it in the courses we furnish.

Adult students deal with us voluntarily and are goaded for their own good. They want it this way. We furnish the stimulus that keeps them going . . . moving forward . . . no matter what!

NELSON-HALL STUDENTS ARE PEOPLE LIKE YOU

Helpful vocational advice is available to anyone who makes use of our services. Generally, the people who write us for self-instruction educational material are divided into four main groups. (Just as a matter of curiosity, in which group do you belong?)

Group 1. These men and women have jobs they like and in which they see a future. They are ambitious to get on. Nelson-Hall furnishes authoritative self-study materials to help them move ahead faster than might otherwise be possible.

Group 2. In this group are those who feel they are in blind-alley jobs and want to break away and do something about it. We know about lines of work with a future . . . and can furnish sound educational texts for quick training.

But sometimes it is the man himself who is blind to the opportunities all around him waiting to be grasped. Our counsel here is mature and reliable.

Group 3. The beginner who has not yet chosen a field needs up-to-date vocational advice and seasoned judgment. Our Success-Catalog gives a bird's-eye view of the broad field of occupations. And our recommendations are impartial because we have courses on nearly every trade and profession. Any suggestions we might make are based on the young man's inclinations, experience, background and opportunities.

Group 4. In this last group are those who are satisfied they are getting ahead fast enough in a line of work they like. We take care of their avocations. They want information and instruction on gardening, ju jitsu, locksmithing, psychology, foreign languages, chess, astrology and a thousand and one other subjects. They also read other serious works on biography, music, art and religion. All this is reading-with-a-purpose. We do not furnish reading matter designed to kill time.

SOUND METHODS ENABLE YOU TO LEARN QUICKLY

Nelson-Hall's educational program is enormously successful. No doubt this unusual success is the result of being on firm ground. The psychological principle upon which we operate is this: What you are taught is as nothing compared with what you learn. Too many educators devote all their efforts to leading the horse to water, so to speak . . . Nelson-Hall accomplishes more because we start by assuming the student is willing and ready to learn . . . and we can therefore devote all our efforts to teaching him exactly what he wants to know . . . rather than merely preparing him to learn.

What you learn by yourself becomes part of you. It is yours. You are proud of it. And, most important, you use what you learn by yourself.

WHAT ELSE CAN WE DO FOR YOU?

For Young Minds we present one of the most comprehensive lists of educational material in the world. "Youths" of all ages can get the texts they want from Nelson-Hall. In this connection it is interesting to remember that a "youth" is anyone with a receptive mind. It is as true today as when Aeschylus said it 490 B. C.: "Learning is ever young, even in old age."

Please let me know if we can help you in your search for new and useful knowledge. We enjoy meeting thirsty, elastic, active minds.

LESSON I

The Meaning of Numbers

DR MACGREGOR MATHERS (Comte de Glenstrae) translated the Hebrew Quaballah of Numbers into English. And the system taught by the writer is based on his translation. Gratitude is here expressed for the splendid contributions to numerology given by all before me and for the benefits derived therefrom.

According to the sages the world came into being through "sound, harmony, vibration and the spoken word."

Numbers are ancient. Numerology goes back to prehistoric days, for the ancients knew about it long before the pyramids were built. The mystic Quaballah deals with more than numerology which is but one of its subjects. The meaning of "Quaballah" is "received from God," and this teaching has been referred to as "the inner teaching of the Mosaic Law." Tradition says that God taught it to a school of angels, who in turn taught it to Adam and Noah.

Numbers are, strictly speaking, neither lucky nor unlucky for they depend entirely on expression of harmony that the person has with vibrations affecting them. This science goes far and it has been proven to me that it is as true with this subject as with any other occult study, "When the student is ready the master is waiting." We live in a universe of vibrations and every person coming into this world has a vibration peculiar to the individual that is distinct from others, effecting a purpose in his coming—a place in the divine scheme that he or she alone can occupy.

So much importance is placed on the vibrations belonging to the name, we are told it has been an old custom of the Jews to change the name of persons at the point of death so as to effect better conditions and aid the sufferer on the road to recovery, the philosophy teaching that in order to annul destiny's evil decree, prayer, charity, change of name and change of actions are necessary.

Lawyers, clergymen and salesmen who must cater to the general public will find this instruction invaluable, a big and important improvement over ordinary business psychology. Employment managers will find it an aid in setting dates for appointments and in naming locations of assignment. By the natural law revealed in this system we can determine the past, the present and the future. We can also learn by this system in what locality or community we vibrate best and with whom we should or should not associate both for our own good and for the welfare of others as well. We all have something we came into this world to do.

To know the meaning of numbers is a big step in numerology; therefore it is advisable to familiarize oneself with this meaning before further study. Yet tools are of little value unless one learns how to apply them; therefore the following English translation of the alphabet is given as an aid in this direction:

Number 1 and the Octaves of 1

- 1 Creative, strongly individual, the beginning, positive, definite in views, inventive, determined, obstinate, ambitious, dislikes restraint.
- 10 Honor, faith, self-confidence; name will be known for good or evil, according to one's desires; plans likely carried out.
- 19 Fortunate and extremely favorable; promises happiness, success, esteem and honor and success in planning for the future.
- 28 Full of contradictions; a person of great promise and possibilities likely to see all taken away unless he carefully provides for the future; loss of money through law; loss through trust in others; opposition and competition in trade; likelihood of having to begin life's road over and over again. Not fortunate for future events.
- 37 Good and fortunate friendships in love and in combinations connected with the opposite sex; also a good number for partnerships of all kinds; in connection with the future it is most fortunate.
- 46 Considered sometimes a great inventor; a psychic, scientist, holder of high ideals; often acquires money only to lose it and has to start all over again when ideals lead to impractical heights. The ambitions of people affected by this number must be checked, or rather held in check, to have steady progress.

- 55 A leader; dominating; frequently follows religious or ethical lines; is honest and has a keen brain; a pioneer in bringing light to others with inspiration and enthusiasm.
- 64 Professional work is better for 64 than is commercial; generally drawn to literary pursuits; sees what others pass by; able to make the most of his time and opportunities; distinctly individual and frequently remains unmarried.
- 73 The meaning of this number is "Wisdom."

Number 2 and the Octaves of 2

- 2 Gentle by nature, imaginative, artistic and romantic; also inventive, but not so forceful in carrying out ideas as Number 1; qualities more on the mental than on the physical plane; seldom as strong physically as Number 1; 2 is restless and unsettled; lack of continuity in plans and ideas; lack of self-confidence; oversensitive; is easily despondent; melancholy if not in happy surroundings.
- 11 Warns against hidden dangers, trial and treachery from others; great difficulties to contend with.
- 20 Called "the awakening"; also "the judgment"; the awakening of new plans, new purposes, new ambitions, the call to action for some great purpose, cause or duty; not a material number; doubtful as far as worldly success is concerned. As for the future there is indication of delays, hindrances to plans and obstacles which can only be conquered through the spiritual development of man's nature.
- 29 Denotes uncertainties, treachery and deception of others; foreshadows trials, tribulation and unexpected dangers; unreliable friends; grief and deception caused by members of the opposite sex; warning for future events.

- 38 Sometimes brings quarrels, misunderstandings and separations. Very powerful spiritually. Where there is harmony it increases it, but where there is discord it brings lies, deceit and falsehood. At best its power is considered unstable and therefore should be watched especially when found in connection with future events. 38 affects the nerves and should always be met in a positive spirit.
- 47 Considered as unstable as 2, 11, 20, 29 and 38; 47 brings possible danger from water. A person affected by 47 is agreeable and tactful, discriminating and co-operative. This person can handle money, statistics, and makes a good banker. But in connection with the future a person with 47 must consider it a danger sign to "stop, look and listen."
- 56 This number dominates and inspires others; it gains fortune and distinction but may outdo his worthy deeds and resort to unworthy ambitions. 56 is very nervous, mentally restless and must learn to control the nerves.
- 65 This number is considered "holy." It is said to give powerful patrons and a happy marriage, but it is also a number of hurts and dangers.

Number 3 and the Octaves of 3

- 3 Ambitious; very independent and tolerates no restraint; proud and never under compliment to others; dictatorial and lays down the law, which brings many enemies; never satisfied in subordinate position and desires authority over others; excellent in giving orders and bringing discipline; obeys others readily but insists on others doing likewise; extremely conscientious in carrying out duties; often rises to highest positions of authority, especially in the government, the army and navy; also in life generally.
- 12 Expresses the desire to make atonement; man's lower nature must be sacrificed to the Higher Power; a number of "suffering and anxiety"; called "the victim"; generally foreshadows one being sacrificed for the plans or intrigues of others.
- 21 Denotes elevation in life and general success; victory after a long fight; the number of artists and musicians; expresses artistic power, poetry, literature, success; 21 in the destiny or birth path makes one artistic in landscape gardening and other gardening, interior decorating and study of plants as the basis of perfumes or in the artistic preparation and serving of foods; 21 is rather

- happy-go-lucky, easy-come-easy-go; concrete things seem to slip away. 21 means attainment, power, individuality, advancement, honor, general fortune; especially fortunate when found in connection with future events; 21 represents supervictory—the supreme success of the human soul—the union of wisdom and love at the end of a path of human effort, realizing perfection and task well done; considered one of the most mystic of numbers that represents the supreme goal toward which all work.
- 30 Belongs to the mental plane; therefore it is neither fortunate nor unfortunate for either depends on the mental outlook of the individual with this number; it can be all-powerful but it is just as often indifferent; it is likely to put all material things on one side—not because it has to but because it wishes to do so; it is strong or weak as it is used. This mental outlook will raise the individual above the normal horizon and is excellent for handling large affairs; indicates love of theaters, dramatics, writing plays, love of music; 30 gives dramatic ability, causes love of children and animals; shows skill as a physician or surgeon as 30 is connected with drugs, chemistry, anatomy and medicine; 30 is free and brilliant when used rightly; yet in the lowest aspect it brings treachery and disloyalty.

- 39 Healthy and brings long life, friendship and love; with 39 live in the southwest and face southwest; lower aspect shows cruelty and suffering but even as it can go to the lowest depths so it can rise to the greatest heights.
- 48 Affectionate nature, sociable, pleasure loving; tends to a happy marriage and general success without either sacrifice or supervictory or the mental freedom of 30; 48 is a more balanced number nearer the influence of 3; its success lies in artistic channels, theaters and amusements. 48 gives psychic and prophetic powers and also indicates a return to the earth and products of the earth; 48 loves physical ease but carried to excess leads to self-indulgence and too easygoing a disposition; functioning on the highest plane seems to bring success and good fortune without the usual effort.
- 57 Indicates a pleasant, social disposition, much given to active pursuits; enjoys display, pageants and military exhibitions; usually prosperous, healthy and successful in business.

Number 4 and the Octaves of 4

- 4 Indicates work accomplished through will, experience, action and realization; is deliberate or cautious type; shows steadiness; inclined to view everything from an opposite angle to others which brings opposition and secret enemies; 4 rebels against rules and regulations and would reverse the order of things even in communities and governments; attracted to social questions and reforms of all kinds; very positive and also highly strung and sensitive; easily wounded in feelings; rather indifferent as to accumulation of wealth but when acquired surprises others by the way 4 employs it and the use 4 puts it to; easily becomes despondent and melancholy; inclined to feel lonely and isolated.
- 13 The number of upheaval and destruction; symbol of power which, if used wrongly, wreaks destruction upon itself; warns one of the unknown or unexpected. Some ancients say, "He who understands 13 is given power and dominion." 13 brings change of plans, place, and not unfortunate as generally supposed.
- 22 Warns of illusions and delusions; a good person living in a fool's paradise and dreaming but

- awakens only when surrounded by danger; false judgment because of the influence of others.
- 31 Not fortunate from a material standpoint; often selfish; self-contained, lonely and isolated from others.
- 40 Careful with money; specialized in printing, literature and methodical living; has learned to be less selfish and knows how to deal more generously with others; 40 takes things more easily, having gained the right to relax. 40 is considered successful in either business or literary lines; is a good investor; mathematical talents have advanced a step from 31.
- 49 The tendency of this well-balanced vibration leads onward and upward; a universal diplomat; in its higher side it is spiritual, virtuous, but in the lower it shows hatred, egotism and insincerity.
- 58 Makes a good doctor; has good health; controls the eyes and sight; 58 makes one a good oculist; 58 makes one frank and affectionate, but because 58 is fickle it does not seem inclined to do any analyzing.

Number 5 and the Octaves of 5

- 5 The fundamental sex number; makes friends easily and gets along with others who are born almost any month; 5 exhausts the nervous strength to the extent it often falls victim to nervous breakdown of the worst kind and easily becomes irritable and quick-tempered under any mental tension; 5, like rubber, is elastic and rebounds at once from the heaviest blow, for nothing affects 5 deeply very long; 5 is attracted to gambling and to stock exchange; born speculators; dislikes hard manual work and seems naturally to drift into all ways of making money quickly; 5 is quick in thought and decisions and impulsive in actions; lives on its nerves and craves every kind of excitement.
- 14 The number of everlasting movement and combination of sexuality, revolution, motion, energy, indecision, temperance, trial and dangers from the natural forces, of ignorance and forgetfulness; a number that must act with prudence and the possessor must use caution since, as a rule, owing to others' foolhardiness, the action of others, the possessor of 14 seems open to risk and danger. 14 is called the true number of incarnation since the soul, descending into matter, is ignorant of its past experience in the flesh. 14 brings a combination of people and things, and if the possessor of 14 acts with caution and prudence he or she can be fortunate in dealing with money, speculation and changes in business. 14 is the number of regeneration and advancement to something higher than the mere physical; this number is sex raised to enthusiasm, affection, love and devotion, or according to the lower aspect of 14 it is degraded to lust, passion and gratifications. 14 profits from aims pure and high followed persistently.

23 23 is a number of success, help from superiors, protection from people of position, fame; promises success, protection from those in high places; expresses cleverness and quick brain; learns easily; is daring; gifted in speech and writing; in dealing with the future denotes changes with opportunity for betterment; most fortunate and promises success for one's plans.

32 This number is magical and associated usually with combinations of people or nations; most fortunate when it holds to its own judgment and opinions, else plans are likely to become wrecked by other people's stupidity and stubbornness; 32 is usually a messenger of good luck in connection with future events; 32 brings many friends, social and business connections; can easily turn from one subject to another; a number of action; 32 gives easy speech and quick mastery of foreign languages; its bad aspects indicate loose morals and lack of spirituality.

41 This number is considered favorable in connection with future events; able to obtain what is desired, keeping harmful things at a distance and in control of passions and playboy tendencies.

50 It has been said of 50 that it "need have no fear of fierce animals or firearms and it is not marked for untimely death, although death's shadow may touch him." 50 lives a life of very intense and constant activity that brings great success and renown and many occupations. 50 tends to bring people into public life, feasts, crowds, and makes its possessor eloquent, as does 23, in speech; gives keen sight and hearing, magnetism, clear brilliant eyes; brings power, leadership; makes one a commander, dominating and dispensing law, justice and order.

59 Considered a number that makes one immune from danger and injury; a number of affairs and many travels; successful with things pertaining to the sea such as maritime operations; 59 makes a good banker and broker but easily led into dishonest speculation; 59 vibration makes one a long-lived conqueror. 59 has many experiences and may become a ruler. The fault of 59 is a continual desire to gamble; also menaced by the desire to swindle and commit fraud; must hold himself in check and live on the highest plane of life.

Number 6 and the Octaves of 6

- 6 This number makes more friends than any other except 5. 6 loves beautiful things; makes artistic homes; admires paintings, statuary, rich colors, and is fond of music. The wealthy who vibrate with 6 are very generous to art and artists; they find pleasure in entertaining their friends and desire to make all about them happy, but they cannot tolerate jealousy and discord. The angry 6 will die fighting for whatever cause he upholds and will brook no opposition. 6 is considered extremely magnetic and can attract others; is loved and often worshiped by those subordinate to him or her, but 6 is very determined in carrying out plans; at times 6 is obstinate and unyielding unless 6 becomes deeply attached; then no slave can be more devoted.
- 15 A fortunate number for obtaining money, gifts and favors from others; 15 is considered also the number of a good talker; 15 is eloquent. This number is associated with the gift of music and art as well as dramatic personality combined with a kind of sensuous temperament and personal magnetism that is very strong. But this number of magic and mystery does not ordinarily

- represent the higher side of occultism, for it is said of 15, "It will use every art of magic it can to carry out its purpose. If associated with a good or fortunate single number it can be very lucky and powerful, but if associated with, say, a 4 or 8 the person with 15 will use any sort of art or even 'black magic' to gain what he or she desires."
- 24 Gains through the opposite sex; warns against danger from falls especially from a horse; promises assistance and association of those of rank and position with one's plans; considered a fortunate number; gain through influential women.
- 33 Steady, reliable, but not particularly a power for either good or evil; best for reliable, regular, conservative business; shows a strong desire to protect others; preference is shown for the quiet of the country rather than city life. The person with this number is dignified, considerate and discriminating. And it is said of this number that "only in rare cases is it found to have a bad influence—then it is seen in connection with rebellion, riots and lawbreaking."
- 42 Strongly religious and leans toward the ministry; consecrated in helping others; follows professional work and the artistic, especially singing. The bad aspect is baseness and treachery which, possibly in extreme cases, may lead to violent death.

- 51 Has the spirit of the warrior; especially favorable for army or navy life; leader in any cause; promises advancement in all undertakings; very powerful; 51 walks successfully and untroubled in trouble's midst, subduing his inward fears; at the same time smiles and talks cheerfully. It is a number that threatens assassination; 51 promises advancement in all undertakings.
- 60 This number makes one cheerful and sought after to be managers, nurses, advisers and mental healers; good lawyers; good health; submits easily to authority, but if functioning in the lower aspect of the number a person becomes a rebel and insubordinate.
- 69 The number of fortune, honor and fame.

Number 7 and the Octaves of 7

- 7 Associated with water; owners or captains of ships; very independent; original; has a strongly marked individuality; loves change and travel; restless; would, if it could, visit foreign countries; very much interested in the affairs of far-off lands; likes books on travel; has great amount of knowledge of the world at large; often makes extremely good writers, painters or poets, but sooner or later shows in all undertakings a peculiar philosophical outlook on life; has peculiar religious ideas; dislikes to follow the beaten path; 7 is a dreamer; intuitive, clairvoyant; has peculiar magnetism over others; has good ideas about business but seldom carries them out.
- 16 A number of weakness, subversion, accident, catastrophes, earthquakes and explosions; the most destructive vibration; defeat and danger; danger signal; calls for caution; danger of defeat of plans; disappointments in love or marriage when found in one's birth path; warning of strange fatality. Symbol—the shattered tower or citadel. On the tarot card is the picture of a man falling with a crown on his head. Lightning has struck the tower—"ruin of the house of life after evil has prevailed." The higher aspect of 16 is the path of glory and victory for the righteous, but the tendency seems to follow the lower aspect of this number; the evil is very strong.

- 25 Makes one safe on water and considered a good swimmer; a master of mysteries; strongly intuitive; gives prophetic dreams or second sight; dominates occult subjects and finds solace in nature; guard against black magic; strength gained through mastering obstacles; strength obtained through observation of people and things. Through strife and trials in the earlier life success is given and considered favorable when it appears in regard to the future.
- 34 This number is connected with hidden and mysterious things; it is intuitive and controls the occult; shows a retiring into its own mind; conventional, therefore seldom oversteps; gives a strong religious and spiritual feeling.
- 43 In all aspects 43 is connected with military activities, for it is symbolized by signs of revolution, upheaval, strife, failure and prevention. For the future it means possible upheavals, strife and failure of plans; some danger from war and firearms, but victory can be obtained only through positive action. 43 is considered an unfortunate number. It is symbolized as "The Death Point."

- 52 A lover of nature; patient before adversity; very courageous; a 52 person is ready to close the door, as it were. It means the finishing of some task. The spiritual rather than the physical begins to prevail and with the "Inner Light" dawning upon the consciousness worldly interests are being shut out. Interest is shown in the higher things of life.
- 61 Sincere; peaceful; knows how to control self and others by quiet, calm self-control; likes travel and pleasures; pleasures must be honest.
- 70 This number is considered fortunate yet its power is similar to 7. Although a much higher octave than the others of 7 it is without a distinct potency.

Number 8 and the Octaves of 8

- 8 888 is the number given to our Lord Jesus Christ in His role as World Redeemer. This number gives a deep and intense nature; great strength of individuality; 8 is either a great success or great failure with no happy medium; when ambitious 8 aims for public life or governmental responsibility and an 8 person often holds a very high position that involves great sacrifice, but, generally misunderstood, feels very lonely at heart. 8 is a number considered fatalistic and fanatical in religion. 8 is faithful and will stand for what it believes to be right regardless of opposition. 8 is a number that can give an impression the opposite of what it really is. 8 has feeling for the persecuted. An 8 person may appear cold but 8 makes one really kindhearted. The higher aspect of 8 indicates philosophic thought, religious devotion, concentration of purpose, zeal for any cause espoused, but the lower side represents upheaval, revolution, anarchy, waywardness and all kinds of eccentricities.
- 17 A very spiritual number; called the Path of the Realization and Reward of the Righteous; symbol of peace and love. The person representing 17 has risen superior in spirit to the trials and difficulties of his life or his career; considered an immortal number and shows that the person with 8, of which 17 is an octave, has his name live after him. 17 is considered fortunate in relation to future events when not associated with the single number of 4 and 8. 17 expresses truth, faith and hope. 17 is the number of executive ability and utility and carries the power of financial success; deals with things concrete in a wise manner. One finds equilibrium, power of intuition and expression of beauty with 17.

- 26 On the higher side 26 has been called the number of Jehovah. Strength is given through control, experience and wisdom; it is considered a good number for diplomacy and secret service; makes one an energetic and compelling speaker. Held to be a strong number whether for good or bad, and in either case tends to worldly prosperity. But the lower aspect gives warning; possible disasters or money losses or unsuccessful partnerships, but it also brings the power to control others; leadership; the number of self-confidence, although some unusual event may be needed to develop this quality. Another bad aspect is the indication of burglars, racketeers and lawbreakers, treachery and evil; foreshadowing disasters brought about by association with others; ruin by bad speculations, by partnerships, unions and bad advice. Therefore it is advisable to watch the path one is treading in the future with 26.

- 35 A person with this number often inherits money and lives in peace with the world; enjoys travel, but in ease may become cruel and tyrannical. 35 is generally friendly and should be helpful. One with this number generally advances without much effort and succeeds quite naturally.
- 44 Here we have a distinguished number; a number of bravery; success in practical undertakings; glory in political and military pursuits, but warning is given with 44 that too great desire for fame may be coupled with personal loss and that hoarding may lead to loss just as too great riches will. Advice is given: "With 44 you must use self-control and know when to stop."
- 53 This number makes one a good detective; he is given to details. The lower aspect of 53 descends to racketeering, spying and using powers for leadership for bad ends. 53 makes a good military man and is rather severe in temperament; likes authority. Though set in his ways, a person with number 53 vibration will nevertheless always go ahead.

Number 9 and the Octaves of 9

- 9 People who vibrate 9 are considered fighters in all they attempt in life and usually have difficult times in their early life but in the end are successful because of their grit, strong will and determination. 9 people make great enemies and their vibration causes strife and opposition wherever it is felt. 9 brings haste in temper; makes one impulsive, independent, and gives the desire to be one's own master. 9 people are often wounded or killed either in war or life generally. 9 men make good soldiers or leaders in any cause because 9 people have great courage. They are impulsive in word and action. This is their greatest danger. And they are prone to accidents from fire and explosions and rarely get through life without some injury from such causes. Much the same as 6 people in this respect, 9 will do most anything for affection and sympathy. 9 is nevertheless considered fortunate so long as one controls it and is not carried away by the excesses of temper and violence that is included in its vibration.
- 18 Symbolizes the materialism of the world warring against the spiritual side of man's nature. 18 is generally associated with bitter quarrels, even family ones; also with war, social strife and revolt; 18 has also been considered the number, in some cases, of making money and position through war and it brings the warning of treachery, deception by others. 18 warns of danger from storms, water, fires and explosions. When 18 affects you "stop, look and listen"; take great amount of care, caution and be on guard. Doctors and lawyers often are represented by 18; this number gives the talent for healing. And it also stands for justice and truth. 18 on the higher side means spirituality; 18 on the lower indicates materiality. 18 is called "the border line" and gives the power of mediumship as well as the power to go in and out of the visible and invisible world. Because it is a threshold number, 9 people are either very good or very bad, excellently balanced or very much unbalanced. 18 is considered the number of genius as well as insanity; the number also of black magic as well as nobility; and usually when 18 comes into the vibration it means an ending or finishing of something to make way for a new beginning.

- 27 The 27th path in the "Sepher Yetzirah," according to Kozminsky, is called the "path wherein is created the mighty intellect of all created things." It is considered a good number and gives power in public places; the ability to think and act independently. For future events 27 denotes, as a rule, an increase of success to follow the closing of existing conditions, and it is often considered a literary number. 27 gives one the desire to help others physically, materially or spiritually. This number shows a creative intellect and love of art, peace, beauty and justice, but the bad aspect at times shows intolerance or bigotry. Having as its symbol "the scepter," 27 promises authority, power and command. Reward to 27 comes from the productive intellect and shows that the creative faculties have sown the good seed that brings a good harvest. 27 people should follow their own ideas and plans rather than other people's, and this number is considered fortunate when it appears in connection with future events.

- 36 According to Mary Adams, this number brings good influence; it brings authority, power and success to all using their talents rightly; generous, kind, sympathetic; calls for service of others; easily upset; has many ups and downs.
- 45 45 loves to teach and serve as well as help others; it punishes wickedness, lifts the fallen and the distressed; indicates preparedness against emergencies rather than the passive resistance of the lower octaves of 9. 45 is the number of early marriage, children and activities connected with groups and organizations, according to Miss Adams.

- 54 Brings the gift of eloquence, scholarship, long life, success, usually good health but danger of lameness, riches and respect of fellow men.
- 63 He who vibrates with 63 is a born missionary and reformer; has good health; works for advancement of the world either commercially or professionally. 63 people need to guard against becoming wasters and mere drifters. Although the tendency is considered fortunate, yet 63 is held to be a doubtful number.
- 72 Seldom we find the meaning given to 72 an octave of 9 but then it is referred to as a number of mercy; also of angels.

The author makes no claim to have discovered the meaning of numbers as given in this lesson. This wisdom must have been known in pre-historic days. He is rather inclined to believe the tradition, since the meaning of the word Quaballah is "received from God," and this Hebrew system of numerology is considered the earliest known to man. Moreover, the tarot cards are related to the Hebrew Quaballah and they are very ancient. These cards show symbolic pictures that contain the meaning of the numbers on the cards. One writer may explain the same number differently from another, yet the meaning each gives is practically the same.

LESSON II

Psychoanalysis by Numbers (What's in a Name?)

THE READER WILL RECALL my statement at the beginning of Lesson One:

This science goes far and it has been proven to me that it is as true with this subject as with any other occult study, "When the student is ready the master is waiting."

A few months previous to my coming to this city there dawned upon me, in my study of numerology, the realization that the mental relationship of one individual to another can be determined numerically, and I applied my personal discovery to the fullest extent and obtained amazing results. I already knew that the birth path and periods of the year of birth, when considered, reveal one's relationship, but there was another discovery to be made in the relationship of one to another that was more intimate.

At about the time of my discovery I had made up my mind to leave the city and move to a community having a numerical vibration in harmony with my own, and I followed the advice of a more experienced numerologist to live in a town whose name totaled the same as the date of the month of my birth, which is considered a number that pertains to individual or personal matters. But to my surprise the result was not as I expected from a business standpoint; however my health was greatly improved. Was I to dismiss the Hebrew system of numerology completely? Or was I being introduced into more light? I found the latter to be true. If I had not come here I probably would not have learned the lesson intended for me to learn. Needless to say, my initiation was severe, but my faithfulness was rewarded. The number of my birth path was being proven to me. This number is 46, the meaning of which is:

"Sometimes a great inventor; a psychic; scientist." And this lesson was given to me, that a city or community is to be dealt with as a person, a corporate person; that it has a date of birth which is the day it came into legal existence, and the name given to the community is its name of destiny with vowels that indicate its talents. Vowels also indicate the prevailing mind of the community; Consonants reveal the city's personality—that is the impression it makes on people.

In answer to my question, "What does numerology show with regard to my relationship with Oakland?" I added the vowels of the name of the city 07 plus A1 plus A1 equals 9. Added to the 21 which is the total of the vowels of the signature I was writing I found my relationship came to 30 which means:

. . . 30 is likely to put all material things on one side, not because it has to but because it so wishes it. For this reason it is neither fortunate nor unfortunate for either depends on the mental outlook of the person 30 represents. It can be all-powerful but it is just as often indifferent.

I then tested my discovery by adding the total of the vowels of the names of many others with not only the total of the vowels of the name of this city but with many other cities and found it to work out as in my case. I have given careful consideration to the matter.

What must I do to remedy the matter? Must I leave town and locate where I vibrate better? Possibly! But a better idea presented itself. I will adopt a signature with vowels that do harmounless he carefully provides for the future; loss of money through law; loss through trust in others; opposition and competition in trade; likelihood of having to begin life's road over and over again. Not fortunate for future events.

Summary: The indications are that this man where he writes his name is not given to details and rather careless in his conversation and trust in others; he likes to spend and is not much of a saver.

Personality (50) Tends to public life, feasts, crowds, and makes its possessor eloquent in speech, gives keen sight and hearing, magnetism, clear brilliant eyes; brings power, leadership; makes one a commander, dominating and dispensing law, justice and order . . . Lives a life of very intense and constant activity that tends to great success and reknown and many occupations.

Summary: A rather jolly good fellow who likes a good time; likes company; has a bright countenance and takes the lead in conversation and doings; is very active; knows how to preserve order.

Destiny number (78) Having no octave for 78 we look over number 6 for the next nearest octave which is 69 that reads as follows:

Fortune, honor and fame.

Summary: With such a destiny number Robert Wilson McDonald, because of his pleasing personality, will yet attain, or does attain, "fortune, honor and fame." His state of mind, being rather careless, would not be sufficient to offset his good fortune that his personality and destiny numbers bring him.

Suppose that Robert Wilson McDonald, as superintendent, is listed on the pay roll as:

Mental state	8 total	7	1
		R. W. McDONALD
Personality	31 total	2	6	4	3	4
Development no.	39 grand total
	or number of adoption.

Mental state (8) This number gives a deep and intense nature; great strength of individuality; 8 is either a great success or great failure with no happy medium; when ambitious 8 aims for public life or governmental responsibility and holds often very high position that involves great sacrifice but, often misunderstood, feels very lonely at heart. . . . Will carry through the cause it takes up in spite of all argument or opposition; is cold and undemonstrative in appearance but in reality has warm heart toward the oppressed; hides the feelings and allows people to think what they will. The higher aspect of 8 indicates philosophic thought, religious devotion, concentration of purpose, zeal for any cause espoused, but the lower side represents upheaval, revolution, anarchy, waywardness and all kinds of eccentricities.

Personality (31) Not fortunate from a material standpoint; often selfish; self-contained, lonely and isolated from others.

Development number 39 or number of the name of adoption. Healthy and brings long life, friendship and love; with 39 live in the southwest and face southwest; lower aspect shows cruelty and suffering, but even as it can go to the lowest depths so it can rise to the greatest heights.

Summary

Mental state: An honest man, considerate and feeling hearted, but tries to conceal the fact. A great success at work; he evidently carries a great responsibility involving great sacrifice on his part.

Personality: The personality of R. W. McDonald is very different from that of Robert Wilson McDonald, which makes him a rather jolly good fellow, seeking a good time, and liking company. The personality of his adopted name tends to make him self-contained, lonely and isolated from his fellows, and he appears selfish; not fortunate from a worldly or material standpoint. Therefore we hardly find Mr McDonald at work taking much of an active part socially. He keeps himself apart; confides in no one.

Total vibration of his name of adoption. With such a personality R. W. McDonald would hardly vibrate with the higher aspect as he does as Robert Wilson McDonald. He would be inclined to appear cruel at times; his nature might seem with those under him and working with him to be very strict; yet with number 8 for a mental state he has a deep and intense nature, but in reality he has a warm heart toward the oppressed but he hides his feelings and allows people to think what they will.

HOW TO APPLY NUMEROLOGY TO THE NAME OF A CITY OR TOWN

A city or town, as well as a firm, is a corporate person, having for its birth path the date it came into legal existence and a name adopted when the charter was granted. The vowels of the corporate person is the general opinion and drift of thought prevailing, and if the individual vibrates with this drift of thought there is harmony and success; if he does not vibrate the result is discord and finally separation. But to establish a mental vibration with a corporation or town the form of signature must be stabilized there; otherwise there is no name vibration any more than with a stranger whose name we do not know and who does not know ours.

Our relations with strangers whose names we do not know and who do not know ours is de-terminated by our unalterable birth path alone, which subject we will discuss in a later lesson.

Though our birth path is unalterable, yet the form of signature of the name can be altered. If our date of birth appears unfortunate we can relieve the situation considerably by drawing to us a good mental and personality vibration that will at least bring us considerably into harmony with our companions and surroundings. As an example:

Let us consider the city named:

Mental state	9 total	7 1	1
		OAKLAND
Personality	14 total	2 3	5 4
Destiny number	23	grand total

Mental state (9) People who vibrate 9 are considered fighters in all they attempt in life and usually have difficult times in their early life but in the end are successful because of their grit, strong will and determination. 9 people make great enemies and their vibration causes strife and opposition wherever it is felt. 9 brings haste in temper; makes one impulsive, independent and gives the desire to be one's own master. 9 people are often wounded or killed either in war or life generally. 9 men make good soldiers or leaders in any cause because 9 people have great courage. They are impulsive in word and action. This is their greatest danger. And they are prone to accidents from fire and explosions and rarely get through life without some injury from such causes. Much the same as 6 people in this respect, 9 will do most anything for affection and sympathy. 9 is nevertheless considered fortunate so long as one controls it and is not carried away by the excesses of temper and violence that is included in its vibration.

Summary: Oakland's general drift of thought is such that it will be a struggle when it attempts anything new; especially was this true in the earlier period of the city's legal existence. In the end, because of determination on the part of officials, Oakland will become successful. The city is evidently destined to have a great fire or fires as Chicago experienced, which city has the same mental state as Oakland as well as the same personality and destiny numbers. Oakland may be the scene of great battles.

Personality (14) The number of everlasting movement and combination of sexuality, revolution, motion, energy, indecision, temperance, trial and dangers from the natural forces, of ignorance and forgetfulness, according to Kozminsky . . . 14 is a combination of people and things; 14 is fortunate for dealing with money, speculation and changes in business, but the great risk and danger attached to it comes from the action and foolhardiness of others;

14 warns to act with caution and prudence; it is the number of regeneration and advancement to something higher than the mere physical; 14 is sex raised to enthusiasm, affection, love and devotion or else degraded to lust, passion and gratifications.

Summary: The appearance of Oakland as does Chicago must always be a town with a combination of people. It will have the appearance sometime of having suffered from natural forces such as tempests, water, air or fire. Like Chicago, it will sometime appear fortunate for dealing with money, speculation and changes in business, but a strong warning goes with it for people in Oakland to act with caution and prudence as is the case in Chicago, being the number of regeneration and advancement to something higher will call for a great deal of mission work among the people. The sex question is outstanding here because 5 is the sex number. 14 is regeneration to something higher or else degradation, in either case a change from 5, the primary number.

Destiny number (23) Number of success, help from superiors, protection from people of position, fame; promises success and protection from those in high places; expresses cleverness and quick brain; learns easily; is daring; gifted in speech and writing; in dealing with the future denotes changes with opportunity for betterment; most fortunate and promises success for one's plans.

Summary: What changes Oakland will make will be for betterment. Officials or citizens in high places, evidently the wealthy, will aid and be of material benefit to Oakland.

HOW TO EXPLAIN BY NUMEROLOGY THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN AN INDIVIDUAL AND A CITY OR TOWN

Now let us suppose that Robert Wilson McDonald comes to Oakland to make his home as well as establish his place of business. What relationship exists between him and this city? The mental state of Robert Wilson McDonald, we have found, is 28; the mental state of Oakland is 9; and the two mental states of 28 and 9 added together produce a mental relationship between Robert Wilson McDonald and Oakland of 37, which according to the "Meaning of Numbers" is as follows:

Good and fortunate friendships in love and in combinations connected with the opposite sex; also a good number for partnerships of all kinds; in connection with the future it is most fortunate.

Therefore it would be profitable for Robert Wilson McDonald to make his home either in Oakland or Chicago, which two cities have the same state of mind, personality and destiny numbers. But if Mr McDonald should continue to be known at work as R. W. McDonald his business relationship in Oakland would be (8 plus 9 or 17):

17 is the number of executive ability and utility and carries the power of financial success. 17 deals with things concrete in a wise manner. One finds equilibrium, power of intuition and expression of beauty with 17.

HOW TO EXPLAIN BY NUMEROLOGY THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN TWO INDIVIDUALS

Robert Wilson McDonald makes the acquaintance of Walter Stanford who knows him as R. W. McDonald. Mr McDonald considers Walter Stanford as a possible employee. Will their business relationship be successful and pleasant or would it be better for Mr McDonald not to employ this man? We shall presently see by counting out the name of Walter Stanford as follows:

Mental state	14 total	1	5	1	7
		WALTER STANFORD
Personality	41 total	6	3	4	2	3	4	5	8	2	4
Name number	55 grand total

Mental state (14) The number of everlasting movement and combination of sexuality, revolution, motion, energy, indecision, temperance, trial and dangers from the natural forces, of ignorance and forgetfulness . . . 14 is a combination of people and things; 14 is fortunate for dealing with money, speculation and changes in business, but the great risk and danger attached to it comes from the action and foolhardiness of others; 14 warns to act with caution and prudence; it is the number of regeneration and advancement to something higher than the mere physical; 14 is sex raised to enthusiasm, affection, love and devotion or else degraded to lust, passion and gratifications. Success in the 14th path comes when one makes his aims pure and high and follows them persistently.

R. W. McDonald's 8 state of mind added to Walter Stanford's 14 state of mind amounts to a Number 22 mental relationship, which means the following:

Warns of illusions and delusions; a good person living in a fool's paradise and dreaming but awakens only when surrounded by danger; false judgment because of the influence of others.

Therefore we conclude their mental relationship in this summary: There would evidently be a certain amount of misunderstanding between these two men even though both of them may be good men. False judgment, owing to the influence of others, would be detrimental to both and would interfere with the peace of all concerned. To avoid this, under such conditions it would be better not to employ Mr Stanford, notwithstanding his ability.

If the mental relationship were 23, 21 or 24 or some other harmonious number the situation would be different. But let us suppose that in their interview R. W. McDonald finds that Walter Stanford has a middle name of Arthur. Mr McDonald could consider Mr Stanford in a 23 relationship by having his name listed on the pay roll and refer to him as "Walter A. Stanford"; the letter A as you have noticed in the alphabet has the value of 1 and 1 added to 14 (which is the total of the vowels in the name of Walter Stanford) gives 15 or the total of the vowels of the name of Walter A. Stanford. The mental relationship would then be 23, as follows:

A number of success, help from superiors, protection from people of position, fame. 23 promises . . . cleverness and quick brain; learns easily; is daring; gifted in speech and writing; in dealing with the future denotes changes with opportunity for betterment; most fortunate and promises success for one's plans.

Examining the full vibration of the entire name of Walter A. Stanford, we get now a 56 which includes the additional middle initial A, as follows:

This number dominates and inspires others; it gains fortune and distinction but may outdo his worthy deeds and resort to unworthy ambitions. 56 is very nervous, mentally restless and must learn to control the nerves.

But considering 23 the mental relationship with its favorable promise, Mr McDonald could feel satisfied that there would be complete understanding with Walter A. Stanford sufficiently to improve conditions, so long as Walter A. Stanford's personality was satisfactory and he is a good workman. Mr Stanford's personality as Walter A. Stanford or Walter Stanford is 41, which means:

Favorable in connection with future events; able to obtain what is desired, keeping harmful things at a distance and in control of passions and playboy tendencies.

This principle of determining the mental relationship of one to another can be an aid to medical practitioners, attorneys-at-law and other professional people in finding their relations to clients as well as the true nature of those in opposition. Moreover, teachers and parents can, by this method, learn the true nature of children; sweethearts can do likewise before marriage and in this way save future regret.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE
"DEVELOPMENT NUMBER"

At the beginning of this lesson we referred to, or rather considered, the "development number" in connection with the change of signature from the name of destiny of the name Robert Wilson McDonald to his adopted name with development number of R. W. McDonald. The number of development is the result of a total of the vowels and consonants in the name we adopt, which number is a new channel that may be developed through life, the opportunity for individual activity, indicating failure, success or departure from ordinary and restrictive conditions. The importance of this number increases proportionately with the increase of acquaintanceship, fame or prominence of the individual. It effects a change in the future of men.

NAPOLEON ANALYZED BY NUMEROLOGY

Let us here consider, as an example, the name of "Napoleon Buonaparte," that he later changed to "Napoleon Bonaparte":

1	7	5	7	6	7	1	1	5	7	1	1	5
NAPOLEON BUONAPARTE BONAPARTE
5	8	3	5	2	5	8	2	4	2	5	8	2	4
State of mind of Napoleon Buonaparte												40
Personality “ “ “												42
Name and number of destiny												82
State of mind of Napoleon Bonaparte												34
Personality “ “ “												42
Development number												76

The name of destiny given at birth was Napoleon Buonaparte that included the talents he was born with, what he was destined to do. In this case the full number of his destiny was 82, but looking over the octaves of 1, there is no 82 listed; therefore we add again the 8 and 2 and obtain 10 which means:

Honor, faith, self-confidence; name will be known for good or evil, according to one's desires; plans likely carried out.

I might add here that the symbol of Number 10 is "The Wheel of Fortune." But after he changed the spelling of his name by leaving out the vowel u the number of adoption became 76; rather the number of development of the name of adoption became 76. Looking over the octaves, we find no 76; therefore we add again and obtain number 13, which means:

"The number of upheaval and destruction; symbol of power which, if used wrongly, wreaks destruction upon itself; warns one of the unknown or unexpected."

If Napoleon had continued his spelling of the last name with the vowel u, Buonaparte, it is probable that his end would have been different. No wonder the ancients said, "He who deals with the Quaballah deals with fire." Not that fire in itself is not good, but carelessness in choosing vibratory numbers contained in names might bring a result that acts like fire when it gets out of control. But on the other hand, fire under control or the use of the Quaballah of Numbers understandingly can be the making of men. We have seen that numbers have both good and bad aspects; therefore in choosing or adopting a new signature it is wise to consider well both angles before proceeding.

In the next lesson we will analyze the destiny number as well as consider the birth path related with it.

LESSON III

The Destiny Number and Birth Path

OUR LAST LESSON considered and answered the question, "What's in a name?" and we found that every name includes a vibratory number so important that it affects the mind and personality of the individual who carries it as well as impresses others who see and hear it for good or evil as the case may be. The name of adoption carries with it the number of development which is a new channel that may be developed through life, giving opportunity for individual activity that indicates success or failure. It also causes departure from ordinary and restrictive conditions: the vibration adopted increases proportionately with the increase of acquaintance-ship, fame and prominence of the person who bears it. And this name of adoption, with its number of development, we exemplified in the preceding chapter in the name of "R. W. McDonald" that was derived from the name of destiny of Robert Wilson McDonald.

THE DESTINY NUMBER AND BIRTH PATH 55

In this lesson I shall show that the name and number of destiny is not entirely displaced by the name of adoption. The name of destiny shows forth the "talents man is born with"; the first definite vibration that affects the individual; a mark of individuality "that distinguishes him from others who have the same birth number; the groundwork upon which he may build his future." The name of destiny carries a number of single names. Each single name contains distinct vibrations of their own, such as:

(a) The family name, considered the hereditary name, carrying the hereditary number.

(b) Active name, generally the first name, pointing to personal activities that are prompted by certain individual characteristics. In the name "Robert W. McDonald," Robert would be the active name, but for him to continually sign his name R. Wilson McDonald, Wilson would be the active name. The name "McDonald" in every case would be the hereditary name.

(c) Passive name is the subordinated name. In the name "R. W. McDonald" the hereditary name, McDonald, would be not only the hereditary name but the only active name as well, since both first and second names in this instance are subordinate.

(d) The destiny name is the full name given at birth, which in this case is Robert Wilson McDonald.

THE DESTINY OF THE BUONAPARTE FAMILY

The destiny name of Napoleon Buonaparte, which indicates the talents he was born with, shows them to be:

Honor, faith, self-confidence; name will be known for good or evil, according to one's desires; plans likely carried out.

The Buonaparte family all carry the same hereditary name and number. The mind of the family name being 20, we find it to be as follows:

Awakening of new plans, new purposes, new ambitions, the call to action for some great purpose, cause or duty . . . doubtful as far as worldly success is concerned. As for the future there is indication of delays, hindrances to plans and obstacles which can only be conquered through the spiritual development of man's nature.

During the French Revolution Napoleon Buonaparte responded to "the call to action for some great purpose, cause or duty." True to his hereditary number, he experienced delays and hindrances to his plans when he invaded Russia and in the Battle of Waterloo. If Napoleon had not changed the spelling of his name from Buonaparte to Bonaparte his first name added to his hereditary name would have continued for him a successful vibration, but though favored with the helpful name Napoleon, it was nevertheless his destiny to experience an interference with his plans. His brother, Joseph Buonaparte, also failed to continue his reign as king of Spain, and a later Emperor Napoleon was forced to abdicate the French throne before the victorious Prussians in 1870. Napoleon Buonaparte had no passive name. He was born with these talents that we find brought out in the vowels of the name given to him at birth:

Careful with money and usually a good investor—specialized in . . . methodical living . . . and can be successful in either business or literary lines. (see Octave 40)

And he was born with this personality:

A leaning toward . . . professional work . . . in extreme cases may lead to death. (see Octave 42)

He was a French officer, therefore a professional soldier, having graduated from the military academy.

THE DESTINY NUMBER AND BIRTH PATH APPLIED

We have said in the beginning of this lesson that the name and number of destiny distinguishes the individual from others who are born with the same birth path, yet the total name vibrations can hardly be of value without stabilizing the name. Unstable thinking and indecision may come from shifting from one name to another.

To gain the most of the talents he was born with and to find happiness and success, Mr McDonald must work out his birth path and then harmonize the writing of his name with it.

Let us say that Robert Wilson McDonald was born

January 6, 1907.

We find his birth path carries this vibration:

January is the 1st month	1
6th of the month	6
The year 1907 when added is. .	17
Total of birth path	24

which means:

Gains through the opposite sex; warns against danger from falls especially from a horse; promises assistance and association of those of rank and position with one's plans; considered a fortunate number; gain through influential women.

Mention might here be made to this important matter: It concerns the birth path. Since the number of the birth path carries with it what the individual brings into this world it is considered the most important vibration by foremost numerologists.

In the last lesson we found that the destiny number came to be 78 but when reduced comes to the single number 6, and by harmonizing it to the birth path we find it governed by 24 which, if reduced, will also come to the single number 6 which in this case harmonizes with the name. But for two individuals who have both a 6 state of mind that total, when added, a 12, the result would be:

Suffering and anxiety; called the "victim"; generally foreshadows one being sacrificed for the plans or intrigues of others.

But let us suppose the birth path came to a 12 or a 21 and the name came to 78. To obtain a development number that will harmonize with the birth path Mr McDonald could write his name "R. W. McDonald," which as you know comes to 39 and can be reduced to the single number 3 as 12 can. Therefore, under such conditions, it would be well for Mr McDonald to write his name as "R. W. McDonald" and follow through life number 24 or 6.

NUMEROLOGY APPLIED IN CHOOSING ADVANTAGEOUS DATES

Now let us proceed in our analysis of the birth path that we have taken as an example:

January 6, 1907.

Another important point that it would be well to remember is this:

For general matters use the number of the month, which in this case would be 1, since January is the first month.

For individual or personal matters use the number of the date of the month, which in this case would be 6—January the 6th.

For matters that affect the current of destiny use the number of the year, which in this case would be 17; the year 1907 added gives us 17.

Mr McDonald, in this case, considers the number of the month of January or 1 as useful to him as far as general matters are concerned; he considers the number of the date of the month of his birth that is 6 useful for individual or personal matters. And his number affecting the current of his destiny is the addition of his year of birth 1907 or 17.

Affecting personal or individual matters, let us suppose Mr McDonald, by his adopted name and number of development (in this case is R. W. McDonald a 39) seeks to know if Monday, April 26, will be favorable to carry out some plan; let us say, to ask the general manager, under whom he is superintendent, for an increase in wages or a better position with the firm. So long as his name is stabilized, Mr McDonald can include his signature in the calculation. He therefore adds the total of the name of adoption, 39, to his date of birth, 6 (his date of birth being the number of individual or personal matters), and obtains 45. And 45 added to the date under consideration, 26, gives a total of 71, the meaning of which is:

... not altogether fortunate. Proceed with caution.

Therefore Mr McDonald must choose another day, say two days previous to April 26 or April 24, which when added gives us 69 meaning:

... fortune, honor and fame.

But if Mr McDonald had no stabilized signature it would be necessary for him to simply add the day of the month of his birth to the 26th, leaving off the number of his name.

Let us suppose that the name of the individual has not been stabilized; the number to use would be simply the number of the day of birth, since for everyday matters pertaining to the individual this number is used; that is, a person born on January 6 would take the 6 plus the day of the month under consideration, such as the 26th; the result would be 32, the meaning of which is:

... magical ... most fortunate when it holds to its own judgment and opinions, else plans are likely to become wrecked by other people's stupidity and stubbornness; 32 is usually a messenger of good luck in connection with future events ... brings many friends, social and business connections; can easily turn from one subject to another ...

The one exception is made to the foregoing and that is where the individual is born on the 4th or the 8th of any month or in the 4th or 8th period of the year. When I say the 4th or the 8th of any month I mean also the octaves that go with 4 and 8, such as:

13th,
17th, 22nd, 26th, 31st.

These people should not pick out any one of these dates as the best for important actions. It would be better to choose other dates than the above mentioned, because of their fatalistic tendencies, such as dates that would come under the 3, 6 and 9 series. 4 and 8 people are warned against living in houses, the numbers of which make 4, 13, 22, 31, 40, 8, 17, 26, 35, 44, to avoid unfortunate experiences. I have even seen the effect of 8, which is the number of the planet Saturn, on individuals born in the 8th period of the year yet having a 23 or some other number for the day of birth, and the effect was very unfortunate. One individual I have in mind wrote his name with a full vibratory force that would be an octave of 8. To relieve himself of the hold this person had to carefully watch his dates and house numbers.

Those of us who are not born in the period of the 8 or on the 8th day of the month, nor born in the period of the 4 or on the 4th day of the month, will experience no harm from choosing either 4 or 8 or the octaves of 4 or 8 in names of adoption or dates for appointments. But otherwise beware.

Let us take into consideration the meaning of 8 as it is given in The Meaning of Numbers. How true is it with Jesus Christ, whose birth is celebrated in the period of Saturn and from what accounts we have was born in January or December? Even the name "Jesus Christ" carries vowels that when added total 12 (e5 plus u6 plus i1 or 12) which means:

Expresses the desire to make atonement; man's lower nature must be sacrificed to the Higher Power; a number of "suffering and anxiety," called the "victim," generally foreshadows one being sacrificed for the plans or intrigues of others.

Of course this name is our translation. Even then the fatalistic hand is seen. 8 people are usually the victims of circumstantial evidence, dying with their secret and going to the Higher Tribunal for justice that they failed to receive among men. The symbol given for 8 is given on the tarot card. It shows strength; conquest by gentle means. A young woman is closing the mouth of a lion and the lion is held by a chain of flowers.

Another symbol for 8 has been "the figure of Justice with a sword pointing upward and a balance or scales in the left hand."

The story of Dr Crippen is outstanding with respect to the influence of 8. Here is a man who was convicted and executed on the strength of circumstantial evidence. The numbers 4 and 8 seemed to be ever before him. The year of his birth came to an 8; the day he made his statement to the police inspector was the 8th; the ships he sailed on to escape had 8 letters each. Even the day of his trial came to a 4 and he was executed at the age of 48. From his own lips came a statement that was considered and used as strong evidence against him. Dr Crippen died for the murder of his wife and the odds were against him.

NUMEROLOGY APPLIED TO THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN AN INDIVIDUAL AND A CITY OR TOWN

In the previous lesson I said that I discovered in my personal experience that the city or town is related to the individual in the same sense as one individual is related to another, it having a date of legal birth and a name of destiny that includes vowels and consonants that signify the general drift of thought prevailing or "state of mind" as well as a "personality" or an impression that the city makes on people. Astrologers advise people to choose a town that harmonizes with the same planetary influence affecting them at birth. Why then should this not also be taken into account in choosing a town by numerology, since the birth path is unalterable? But the other side of the problem is with the name of adoption. Both the date of the month of the town's legal birth added to its name of destiny will produce the full vibratory force affecting the community in general.

Now by referring back to our example, we find R. W. McDonald's adopted name carries a full vibratory force of 39. Added to the day of the month of his birth, the 6th, we obtain 45, which is Mr McDonald's full vibratory number. And both full vibrations, that of Mr McDonald's adopted name, rather his adopted signature and that of Oakland respectively, added together produce the exact relationship of Mr McDonald to Oakland. I am not certain of the true birthday of Oakland but I believe it is May 4, 1850. At least we will suppose it is so in this instance. Oakland, legally born on the 4th, added to 23, the full vibratory force affecting the community in general through the name of destiny, produces 27, the total vibratory force of both birth and name. And 27 added to 45, the full vibratory number of Mr McDonald will produce 72, which is the exact relationship of R. W. McDonald to Oakland, the meaning of which is:

... number of angels and of mercy ...

It is therefore a very spiritual number. This calculation would make one more exact of course. Yet in ordinary matters we might consider it sufficient to harmonize the person's state of mind to the "state of mind" or drift of thought affecting the city or community, because in many cases it is very difficult to obtain the legal birth date of the town or hamlet under consideration.

Now let us proceed with the number of the month. This number is useful as far as general matters, and from birth until the 27th birthday the digit of the month is most powerful. But the date of the month of birth is most important for individual or personal matters, and this number is most outstanding from the 27th birthday to the 54th year. Following the 54th year, until the individual reaches 81, the digit of the year of birth (the four figures reduced till there is but the addition of them) is most prominent. After a person reaches 81 the entire birth path rules. In the case of Mr McDonald, whose birthday is January 6, 1907, he would find number 1 most outstanding until he reached his 27th birthday because January is the first month of the year. After his 27th birthday until he became 54 years of age it was 6, the day of the month, affecting him mostly; after his 54th year until he became 81 he experienced 17 outstanding, because this number is the addition of the year 1907, the year of his birth; after his 81st birthday Mr McDonald will find 24 the principal number since it is the total of his birth path which is 1 plus 6 plus 17. We need to remember this because this information will enable us to calculate along the path of the current of destiny that we will discuss later.

THE BIRTH DATE IN RELATION TO YOUR ADDRESS AND TELEPHONE NUMBER

We should bear in mind that the date of the month of one's birth is most important for individual or personal matters. In determining whether the number of our address or telephone number is fortunate or unfortunate the date of the month of one's birth is involved. McDonald is born January 6. The number of the street called "Broadway" is 1400. 14 plus 6 equals 20 which means:

Called "the awakening," also "the judgment"; the awakening of new plans, new purposes . . . doubtful as far as worldly success is concerned. As for the future there is indication of delays, hindrances to plans and obstacles . . .

When we examine Broadway, the name of the street, we find it means this:

Mind	7	1	1	9
	B R O A D W A Y
Personality	2	2	4	6
Full vibratory number of street	2	2	1	15
				24

Mr McDonald's state of mind as "R. W. McDonald," his name of adoption, being 8, his relationship with this street would be 8 plus 9 or 17, which means:

A very spiritual number . . . Reward of the righteous . . . has risen superior in spirit to the trials and difficulties of his life or his career . . . is considered fortunate in relation to future events . . . deals with things concrete in a wise manner. One finds equilibrium, power of intuition and expression of beauty with 17.

Therefore we conclude that McDonald will no doubt come to a great spiritual experience on Broadway and he will succeed here only so far as he follows the straight and narrow path. Suppose the street he lived on were Ninth Street. It would not be written "9 Street" but "Ninth Street"; not "2 Street" but "Second Street." Each of these streets have vowels in their names; the vowel of Ninth is i and the vowels of Second are e and o. Therefore in our calculation we would deal with these streets in the manner we did with Broadway.

The telephone number of Mr McDonald is Piedmont 046-W, but he dials it:

PI 046W 32 plus 6, the date of his birth, 8 1 7 4 6 6 or 32 equals 38, which carries this meaning:

Sometimes brings quarrels, misunderstandings and separations . . . Where there is harmony it increases it but where there is discord it brings lies, deceit and falsehood . . . considered unstable and therefore should be watched especially when found in connection with the future; a person with 47 must consider it a danger sign to “stop, look and listen.”

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE BIRTH DATE IN PERSONAL RELATIONSHIPS

In the previous lesson we discussed the mental relationship between individuals. In this lesson we have come to learn that the date of the month of one's birth is most important for individual or personal matters. It is also most important in the relationship between individuals and the cities. Why? Because this vibration is unalterable. The mental relationship that is based on names can be altered. Therefore the mental relationship is secondary but nevertheless very important.

We learned that the mental relationship between R. W. McDonald and his employee, Walter A. Stanford, is 23. Now we find that R. W. McDonald was born the same month and year but on a different date of the month than was Mr Stanford; McDonald was born on the 6th, whereas Stanford was born on the 18th. And the addition of McDonald's 6 to Stanford's 18 produces 24, which means:

... promises assistance and association of those of rank and position with one's plans; considered a fortunate number ...

It so happens that both men are born in the period of the 8, which subject we will discuss in the next lesson. But getting back to the subject of our discussion—by adding the numbers of development affecting these men (McDonald's 39 plus Stanford's 56) we obtain 95 that is the combined force of the numbers of development affecting both. And 95 added to 24, representing the combined planetary vibration affecting their personal matters, will produce 119 which, added together, gives us 11, the meaning of which is:

Warns against hidden dangers, trial and treachery from others; great difficulties to contend with.

Therefore, Mr McDonald, foreseeing this, can arrange beforehand to safeguard himself. The Quaballah points out the good and bad aspects of all relationship, both in the unalterable and alterable. It enables us to detect character better than we did without it. It will prevent our conversation with and meeting those who, though ignorant of the fact themselves, would be instrumental in doing both themselves and us possible harm. In this way man can be saved much sorrow and disappointment.

The birth path is related to the period of the year in which we are born because we had first to come to the period of the year before the birth path could come into being. The next lesson brings us to consider the subject:

“The Nine Periods of the Year and Their Relation to One Another.”

This subject is of great importance in the prophetic interpretation of the yearly cycle that we will discuss later.

LESSON IV

The Nine Periods of the Year and Their Relation to One Another

IN THIS LESSON we have our real contact with astrology. The chart on page 75 will acquaint the student with the corresponding signs of the zodiac to the nine periods of the year. I shall not go into the subject of astrology in this lesson but simply touch upon it where it directly affects numerology, it being my policy to teach what directly deals with the present study.

Out of a great amount of information written about numerology I selected what I consider "the meat" of the matter; a working knowledge that has resulted in my work:

"Numerology Understood Demonstrably in Five Lessons."

"The Nine Periods of the Year and Their Relation to One Another" concerns the numerologist as much as does the birth path, since the month and day of the month enter into it. The careful student cannot but help realize the importance of every lesson in this course, since in order to learn the lesson before him he finds it depends upon his mastery of the lesson preceding it.

Before the workmen in the assembly plant can assemble the parts that will make a finished product each part must be complete and perfected in itself. So it is with our study. In our discussion of the prophetic interpretation of the yearly cycles and current of destiny this lesson will play an important part.

The year is divided into nine periods and each period includes one-and-one-third months approximately. All things subject to birth come into being in one of the nine periods. The relationship of people born in one period to another is affected by their mental relationship as indicated by an addition of the vowels of their names as well as by the addition of the dates of their month of birth. The following explanation is given for each period of the year respectively:

PERIOD NUMBER 1

July 21 to August 20; Leo, positive

March 21 to April 28; Aries, less strong Represents "the sun" and symbolizes the beginning; that by which all the rest of the other numbers were created. The basis of all numbers being 1, this number is the basis of all life. Number 1 means that which is creative, individual and positive. Born in this period, an individual has the underlying principle of being in his or her work that makes it creative, inventive, strongly individual, definite in views, but that person is also more or less obstinate and determined in everything he or she undertakes. All born within the positive aspect of Leo from July 21 to August 20 and the less strong aspect of Aries from March 21 to April 28 come under this period and these people have qualities given to all Number 1 people "in a distinctly more marked degree." These people are ambitious; they dislike being restricted. Number 1 people always rise in their professions and occupations whatever they may be and wherever they are, for it is their desire to become the head of the businesses they are in. When they become heads of departments they make themselves respected and keep their authority over their subordinates. People born in this period are most fortunate when they carry out their plans in their period. The days of the week most fortunate for those born in this period of the year are Sunday and Monday. Ordinarily Number 1 people vibrate well with those born under periods 2, 4 and 7.

PERIOD NUMBER 2

June 20 to July 25; Cancer, positive

Represents "the moon" with the feminine attributes of the sun. Because of this Number 1 and Number 2 people, although decidedly opposite in their characters, nevertheless harmonize and make good combinations. 2 people are by nature gentle. They are also imaginative, artistic and romantic. Though also inventive like Number 1 people, Number 2 people are not as forceful in carrying out their ideas, nor are they so strong physically. The qualities of Number 2 people are more on the mental than on the physical plane. Ordinarily 2 and 1 people vibrate better than do 2 and 7 people, but with the exception of the first period 2 and 7 people vibrate better than does 2 with other periods. For further information relative to this number see "The Meaning of Numbers," Number 2. People born in this period are most fortunate when they carry out their plans in this period. The days of the week most fortunate for Number 2 people are Sunday, Monday and Friday; the reason Friday is considered favorable is because it is governed by Venus.

PERIOD NUMBER 3

February 19 to March 21; Pisces, negativeNovember 21 to December 21; Sagittarius, positive

Represents Jupiter. This planet is considered one of the main lines of force that runs right through all the numbers from 1 to 9. 3, 6 and 9 people are all sympathetic to one another. People born in this period are most fortunate when they carry out their plans in this period. The days of the week most fortunate are Thursday, Friday and Tuesday; Thursday is the most important. And when a number making a 3 falls on these days they are found to be especially good, such as the 3rd, 12th, 21st or 30th and the next in order comes numbers 6 and 9 such as the 6th, 9th, 15th, 18th, 24th or 27th. The period of Number 3 includes February 19 to March 21, which is the negative of Pisces, as well as from November 21 to December 21, the positive of Sagittarius. Further explanation of the third period can be found under Number 3 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers."

PERIOD NUMBER 4

June 21 to July 21; Cancer, negativeJuly 22 to August 31; Leo, positive

Represents Uranus which is related to the sun which is symbolized by Number 1. Number 4 people are born between June 21 and July 21, called the moon period and also the negative of Cancer, as well as between July 22 to August 31, the positive of Leo. The weekdays most fortunate are Saturday, Sunday, and Number 4 people vibrate best with those born in the periods of 2 and 8. Further explanation of the fourth period can be found under Number 4 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers." Except in the cases of 4 and 8, the concentration of one's number becomes useful and it increases its power. People born in the same period are naturally sympathetic one to another. This sympathetic relationship is such that the other individual in the same period he is talking to is "one of themselves" as it were; a sentiment when radiating outward destroys nervousness and causes a vibration that produces harmony from one to another. 4 and 8 persons should avoid all numbers making an 8 or 4 as much as possible. They should avoid living in houses that have such numbers and not choose dates that make them such as 4, 8, 13, 17, 22, 26 and 31. Therefore 4 and 8 people should never increase the power of these numbers. With them there is an exception to the general rule for people born under other numbers; they should do the opposite. The birth path is unalterable but the name can be altered to produce a number of a more fortunate vibration, such as 1, 3, 5 or 6 and then follow the strong number found in the name of adoption and think of themselves as that number, doing everything important on dates that make that number, and so by doing this persistently Number 4 and Number 8 people will get away from the misfortune they generally experience. They will then become as equally fortunate as others. And it is when the combinations of 4, such as 4, 13, 22 and 31, and of 8, such as 8, 17, 26, 35 and 44, continually come before them that steps should be taken to avoid these numbers. 4 man, marrying an 8 woman, will find her bringing him sadness, misfortune or terrible blows of fate. 4 and 8 people as a rule attract each other and show the highest devotion during illness and misfortune. It is said that some of the greatest sacrifices of self have been made when people born in the period of the 4 and those born in the 8 period marry or make a combination together. In a previous lesson we read the fate of "Crippen" who represents a combination of 4 and 8. If there ever was a child of fate he was one. 4 is like 8 in this respect. Like 8, people born in this period are "marked people" wherever they go.

PERIOD NUMBER 5

May 21 to June 23; Gemini, positive

August 21 to September 23; Virgo, negative

Represents Mercury and is many-sided; variable; can turn from one subject to another; versatile. Number 5 people are born between May 21 and June 23, Gemini positive, and between August 21 and September 23, Virgo negative. Those born in this period make friends easily and better than those born in any other period, but their best friends are born in their own periods. Further explanation of the fifth period can be found under Number 5 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers." The most fortunate days of the week are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday especially when such numbers as 5, 14, 23 fall on these days.

PERIOD NUMBER 6

April 20 to May 24; Taurus, positive

September 21 to October 24; Libra, negative

Represents Venus and all born between April 20 and May 24, or from September 21 to October 24. (Explanation is further given under Number 6 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers.") The days of the week most important are Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Like Number 5 people, people born in this period make friends easily with those born in most all periods of the year.

PERIOD NUMBER 7

June 21 to July 25; Cancer, positive

July 25 to August 31; Leo, less strong Represents Neptune and all born from June 21 to July 25, Cancer positive aspect, and from July 25 to August 31, Leo less strongly aspected. The most fortunate days of the week are Sunday and Monday. (Explanation is further given under Number 7 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers.") We are told that, generally speaking, Number 7 people are not so fortunate in money matters as those born under other numbers, although the women whose number is 7 often marry well. The subject on the tarot card of 7 is "The Chariot." A conqueror drives the chariot. Having overcome elementary forces, he now shows forth great magnetic power. By this magnetic power he is triumphant over both the mentality and science. He is also referred to as the "Victor in the Chariot"; "The Cherub's Fiery Sword." One meaning drawn from this symbolical picture is that fame, honor, victory, good reputation is suggested. Dr Wynn Wescott is credited with the following: "After birth the 7th hour decides whether the child will live; in 7 days the cord falls off; in twice 7 days the eyes follow a light; thrice 7 days, turns the head; 7 months, gets teeth; twice 7 months, sits firmly; thrice 7 months, begins to talk; four times 7 months, walks strongly." It is said that in the most ancient rules of occult philosophy 7 is the only number that can divide the number of eternity and continue in itself as long as the number representing eternity lasts and produces the basic number on which is built all materialistic calculations, the dependence of all human beings and the entire structure of human thought finds its expression. And so we divide number 1 that represents the Father of all which is with His eternity symbol 0 by the mystic 7, the number of completeness. We may add as many zeros as we like and go on and on, but we can only obtain the sacred number 142,857. This number when added gives us 27, the "path wherein is created the mighty intellect of all created things" mentioned in Sepher Yetzirah, and by adding 2 and 7 we obtain 9, which is the only number that when multiplied by any number always reproduces itself.

PERIOD NUMBER 8

December 21 to January 26; Capricorn, positive

January 26 to February 19; Aquarius, negative

Represents Saturn and all born between December 21 and January 26, which is considered the House of Saturn positive, and between January 26 and February 19 the period called the House of Saturn negative. The most important days are Saturday, Sunday and Monday. (Explanation is further given under Number 8 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers.") Saturday is the most important day of the three. (See also advice given under Period Number 4 for people born within Periods 4 and 8.) Saturn is called the Planet of Fate and from earliest ages it, represented by number 8, with two circles or two worlds—the spiritual and the material—has brought into the experience of men and nations the hand of fate. According to Kozminsky the ancient Greeks who considered 8 a peculiar number regarded it as having great power and claimed that all things are 8. In Lesson One—"The Meaning of Numbers"—the reader will find only eight numbers given in the translation of the alphabet. The 8th path is called the Path of Perfection. Another interesting thing to know about this number is that it has been held by the ancients to be the "Gate of Eternity" because it succeeds 7.

PERIOD NUMBER 9

March 21 to April 27; Aries, positive

October 21 to November 27; Scorpio, negative

Represents Mars and all born between March 21 and April 27—Aries positive—and between October 21 and November 27—Scorpio negative. The most important days are not given. There is but one and that is Tuesday. (Explanation is further given under Number 9 in the chapter entitled "The Meaning of Numbers.") This number 9 is the only number in calculation that multiplied by any number always reproduces itself. 9 is considered a fortunate period of the year to be born into so long as the individual is not carried away by the excesses of temper and violence that this number is the symbol of. 9 is the path of pure intelligence. One writer says, "As a house number it is not considered fortunate." Possibly, but I have not proven it so.

Both Mr McDonald and Mr Stanford were born in the month of January. Mr McDonald was born on January 6 and Mr Stanford was born January 18. They were therefore born in the period of 8, a number that represents irrevocable Fate that would affect the lives of both. They should therefore avoid business consultation of an important nature the 8th, 17th and 26th of any month, especially during the period of 8.

LESSON V

Prophetic Interpretation of the Yearly Cycles and Current of Destiny

IN THIS LESSON we have reached the assembly plant with our completed parts, as it were, and are now ready for the finished product of our course. These parts are the four lessons:

- (a) The Meaning of Numbers
- (b) Psychoanalysis by Numbers
- (c) The Destiny Number and Birth Path
- (d) The Nine Periods of the Year and Their Relation to One Another.

And now we shall discuss "Prophetic Interpretation of the Yearly Cycle and Current of Destiny."

Man's earthly experience is similar to the rise and fall of grain that one can determine yearly or semiannually by reading a chart or graph. There comes a time when he reaches the peak of his prosperity; then again he drops to the lowest level of his misfortune.

There is a current of destiny for every man and nation. It brings misfortune and defeat until the man or nation accomplishes by learning what was intended to be learned when the individual or nation came into being. The current of destiny starts at the moment of birth, and its turning points are at the beginning of grand cycles that cover a number of years from one grand cycle to another. As an example we will discuss the current of destiny of Robert Wilson McDonald, born January 6, 1907. You will recall that I said, "The number of the year, which is the number of the current of destiny, is for matters affecting the current of destiny." Also concerning the number of the month I said this: "This number is useful as far as general matters, and from birth until the 27th birthday the digit of the month is most powerful." During the month of January, the 1st month, Mr McDonald was born; therefore Number 1 was the most powerful number affecting him from birth until he reached his 27th birthday, a number which means:

Creative, strongly individual, the beginning, positive, definite in views, inventive, determined, obstinate, ambitious, dislikes restraint.

Let us first proceed to calculate the grand cycles before interpreting them.

By adding McDonald's year of birth we obtain 17 which indicates the number of years between birth and the beginning of a new cycle in his life. 17, the number of years covering the first grand cycle, added to Number 1, which is the most powerful number affecting Mr McDonald the first 27 years of his life, we obtain the number of his experience, 18. Therefore, from birth until at least the beginning of his new grand cycle of life, Mr McDonald experienced the following:

Symbolizes the materialism of the world warring against the spiritual side of man's nature. 18 is generally associated with bitter quarrels, even family ones; also with war, social strife and revolt . . . warning of treachery, deception by others. 18 warns of danger from storms, water, fires and explosions. . . .

Born in the period of Saturn, Period Number 8, since January is included in that period, he also experiences (17 plus 8) another number, 25, which means:

Safe on water and considered a good swimmer . . . strongly intuitive; gives prophetic dreams or second sight . . . finds solace in nature . . . strength obtained through observation of people and things . . . strife and trials in the earlier life . . .

Mr McDonald informs us that for the first 27 years his signature was his full name, "Robert Wilson McDonald," which shows a total of 28 for the vowels of his name, personality number 50 and a destiny number of 78. The vowels of the name indicating his state of mind coming to 28 plus 17, the number of years covering the first grand cycle, equals 45, the number of McDonald's mental experience the first 17 years of his life, which means:

45 loves to teach and serve as well as help others; it punishes wickedness, lifts the fallen and the distressed; indicates preparedness against emergencies rather than the passive resistance. . . . 45 is the number of early marriage, children and activities connected with groups and organizations . . .

It would be safe in saying that McDonald, the early part of his life, was inclined to think of marriage a great deal and that he was fond of company; was a joiner of clubs, etc.; was philanthropic. His personality number being 50, added to 17, which is the number of years covering the first grand cycle, we find the number of impression he made on others during this time, 67 (having no 67, we add again and obtain 13):

. . . the unknown or unexpected . . . change of plans, place . . .

McDonald's destiny number, 78 (the full vibratory number of his name), added to 17, the number of years covering the first grand cycle, gives us an addition of 95; added again we obtain 14, which brought him this experience in his youth:

The number of everlasting movement and combination of sexuality, revolution, motion, energy, indecision, temperance, trial and dangers from the natural forces, of ignorance and forgetfulness . . . combination of people and things . . . fortunate for dealing with money, speculation and changes in business, but the great risk and danger attached to it comes from the action and foolhardiness of others. . . .

Having reached the beginning of a new cycle in his life in 1924 (the addition of the number of years covering the first grand cycle to the year beginning it and which it is an addition of), we add this year again and obtain 16 for the number of years covering the second grand cycle of his life. (1 plus 9 plus 2 plus 4 equals 16.) Now we shall proceed to learn McDonald's experiences during this new period. 16 plus 1, which is the most powerful number affecting man the first 27 years of life, equals 17, a number of experience:

. . . peace and love; the person representing 17 has risen superior in spirit to the trials and difficulties of his life or his career . . . 17 is the number of executive ability and utility and carries the power of financial success. 17 deals with things concrete in a wise manner. One finds equilibrium, power of intuition and expression of beauty with 17.

8, the number of the period of the year of his birth, plus 16, the number of years covering the second grand cycle of his life, we obtain 24, the number of another experience during this second cycle:

Gains through the opposite sex; warns against danger from falls, especially from a horse; promises assistance and association of those of rank and position with one's plans; considered a fortunate number; gain through influential women.

Next we add his state-of-mind number, 28, to the number of years of the second cycle, 16, and obtain 44, the number of his mental experience during this second cycle. Following this, we deal with his personality number and destiny number as we did in the previous cycle, etc., until McDonald has reached his 27th year, when the leading number changes from the number of the month of birth to the day of birth (day of the month of birth).

In 1934 Mr McDonald reached his 27th birthday, although the third cycle for him did not begin until 1940, but from 1934 until 1940 he is affected by his day of birth, 6, since he was born January 6, and not by the month number affecting him until 1934. Therefore 17 would be his experience (16, the number of years covering the second grand cycle of his life, plus 1, the number of the month of his birth) until 1934; from then on until 1940 his experience would be (16, the number of years covering the second grand cycle of his life, plus 6) a 22:

Warns of illusions and delusions; a good person living in a fool's paradise and dreaming, but awakens only when surrounded by danger; false judgment because of the influence of others.

Otherwise there would be no other change until 1940, the beginning of a third cycle lasting (1 plus 9 plus 4 plus 0 equals 14) 14 years, when he will experience the following:

14 years of the 3rd cycle plus 6, the day of birth 20
 14 years of the 3rd cycle plus 8, period of birth 22 14 years of the 3rd cycle plus 8, number of state of mind of R. W. McDonald since his 27th birthday when he changed the spelling or form of signature 22

14 years of the 3rd cycle plus 31, number of personality of newly adopted signature of R. W. McDonald 45
 14 years of the 3rd cycle plus 39, number of development or number of name of adoption of R. W. McDonald 53

20, 22, 45 and 53 are the numbers of R. W. McDonald's experience throughout the 14 years of the 3rd cycle of his life.

In 1961 Mr McDonald will reach his 54th year, seven years after the beginning of the fourth grand cycle of his destiny. 1954, the beginning of his new cycle, added, gives us 19, and 19 added to the number of the day of birth which influences him most until he reaches his 54th year, 6, gives us 25. 25 is a number of his experience until 1961 when another number, the addition of the digits of the year, 17, takes the place of 6, the number of his day of birth, although this 19-year cycle will not change until 1973. In 1988 again he has a change of influence from his birth path. At this time he comes to his 81st year when the entire birth-path rules for him (January, 1 plus 6 plus 17 or 24) instead of the number of the year of his birth. Otherwise the other numbers of his experience remain the same, except possibly a change in the name vibration.

Born in 1901, the writer does not remember at present what event transpired in 1912 (1901 equals 11 plus 1901 equals 1912) but 1912 added once more brings 13 and 13 plus 1912 equals 1925 which was the year his mother died. 1925 added together produce 17, which, when added to 1925, gives 1942, the next important year in the life of the writer. Cheiro says:

The year number totaled and added to itself indicates an important year in the destiny.

THE YEARLY CYCLE

Let us now consider the yearly cycle that changes annually. Every vibration is brought to play in our prophetic interpretation of the yearly cycle. They are

- (a) Number affecting personal or individual matters; the day of birth..... 6
- (b) Number affecting general matters; the month of birth..... 1
- (c) Number of the period of birth..... 8
- (d) Number affecting what man came into the world to do; the full birth-path number 24
- (e) Number of the adopted name..... 39
- (f) Number of the mental vibration..... 8
- (g) Number of the personality; the impression made on others as indicated in the consonants 31

R. W. McDonald not only takes inventory of the firm where he is superintendent but he stops to consider numerically his prospects for the coming year—1940. This year, when added, gives us 14 (1 plus 9 plus 4 plus 0 equals 14), the number of the year to be added to all the above vibrations.

- (a) 6 plus 14 equals 20, affecting personal affairs
- (b) 1 plus 14 equals 15, affecting general affairs
- (c) 8 plus 14 equals 22, affecting period of birth
- (d) 24 plus 14 equals 38, affecting what man came to do
- (e) 39 plus 14 equals 53, affecting the name (full vibratory force)
- (f) 8 plus Oakland's mental vibration, 9, equals 17 plus 14, the year number, equals 31, affecting mental vibration
- (g) 31 plus 14 equals 45, affecting personality.

We summarize the above as follows:

McDonald's personal affairs will be affected by an awakening of new plans, new purposes, new ambitions, the call to action for some great purpose, cause or duty, but doubtful as far as worldly success is concerned. As for the future, there is indication of delays, hindrances to plans and obstacles which he can only conquer through the spiritual development of his nature.

In general Mr McDonald shows himself creative, strongly individual, positive, definite in views, inventive, ambitious, determined, at times obstinate, and dislikes restraint. Because of the period of his birth he is affected this year with false judgment owing to other people's influence. He is warned of illusions and delusions; a good person living in a fool's paradise and dreaming, but awakens only when surrounded by danger. McDonald needs to guard against becoming quarrelsome. Where there is harmony the vibration with him increases it, but where there is discord it brings lies, deceit and falsehood. He needs to be careful of his nerves since 38 affects his birth path this year and he therefore should meet a situation in a positive spirit.

Through the name Mr McDonald is affected in 1940 as follows: He is given to details and the vibration affecting him makes him a good detective, but he needs to watch lest he descend to racketeering, spying and using powers for leadership for bad ends. He is rather severe in temperament; likes authority. Is set in his ways. But the impression he makes on others is that he likes to punish wickedness and lift the fallen and the distressed. He shows preparedness against emergencies and interest in groups and organizations, although in his mind he feels lonely and distant.

He wishes also to know how he vibrates monthly so he adds the number affecting his personal or individual matters (6) to the respective months and finds the leading vibration affecting him from month to month. 6 plus the first month equals 7; 6 plus the second month equals 8, etc. His experience in January being 7, it would be the following:

... very independent ... loves change and travel; restless ... has good ideas about business but seldom carries them out.

Finally McDonald decides to know what days of the month would be most favorable in business. Since his signature is well established with the firm, 39, he can include it in his calculation. Therefore he adds it to the number affecting his personal or individual matters, 6, which equals 45, or 9, and combines this number with every date of the month 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, etc. 9 plus 1 equals 10. Octave 10 indicates a good vibration and he can therefore consider the 1st of any month a good day. He matches 9 and 2 but finds 11 a bad vibration for business, so he disregards the 2nd and lists it among the bad days of any month and follows this procedure throughout the month.

Looking over the period of Number 8 in which he was born, Mr McDonald learns that his most fortunate weekdays are Saturday, Sunday and Monday, but wishing to escape the harmful influence of Number 8, he chooses rather the days favorable in period Number 6, since 6 affects him as a number dealing with his personal or individual matters, and he finds these days to be Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Living Examples

THIS SECTION OF MY WORK covers simply a general application of an already-completed course of five lessons. We shall concern ourselves with the numerologizing of famous persons and the bearing this system has on the destiny of the United States.

Our first example:

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE EDWARD
DUKE OF WINDSOR

Born June 23, 1894—51

1894	1916
27	17
1921	1933
27	16
1948	1949

This hereditary prince, former Prince of Wales and King Edward VIII but now the Duke of Windsor, has 51 for his birth-path number—

"the expression of the ego he brings to this incarnation" (see quotation from Mary Adams on page thirty-three of this work); the meaning of which is as follows:

51 has the spirit of the warrior; especially favorable for army or navy life; leader in any cause; promises advancement in all undertakings; very powerful; 51 walks successfully and untroubled in trouble's midst, subduing his inward fears; at the same time smiles and talks cheerfully. It is a number that threatens assassination. 51 promises advancement in all undertakings.

It is known that Edward has "the spirit of the warrior"; he manifested it as king with the prime minister. He has always had a mind of his own. It is "especially favorable" for him in the army. During the World War (1914-18) the prince was Prince of Wales and heir to the British throne; therefore he was a leader in the cause. Today in Great Britain's second war with Germany he is advanced from major general to lieutenant general in the British army, and he is still a leader in the cause he upholds as well as another evidence of "advancement in all undertakings." He has great equilibrium, for he "walks successfully and untroubled in trouble's midst, subduing his inward fears; at the same time smiles and talks cheerfully." During the last World War Edward was found by those who considered themselves responsible for his safety in dangerous places endangering his life. When this was brought to his attention his answer was, "If I should die I have brothers to succeed me." During his short reign it will be remembered an attempt was made on his life.

Edward is a member of the royal House of Windsor, but to it he is thought of as "David." House of Windsor carries a mental vibration of 33 which means:

Steady, reliable, but not particularly a power for either good or evil; best for reliable, regular, conservative business; shows a strong desire to protect others; preference is shown for the quiet of the country rather than city life. The person with this number is dignified, considerate and discriminating. . . .

The royal family is known for its fidelity to one another; especially was this shown while Edward was passing through his crisis because of the woman he loved. Probably no other nation has more respect for its reigning house than does Great Britain, a house that truly mentally vibrates a 33 and therefore a worthy symbol of unity that it represents. The impression made on others is 36, the meaning of which is:

. . . this number brings good influence; it brings authority, power and success to all using their talents rightly; generous, kind, sympathetic; calls for service of others; easily upset; has many ups and downs.

Only since the World War has the royal family been called the House of Windsor, but since it has adopted this name it cannot be denied that the above is true with respect to the impression it has made. The experience it had during the reign of King Edward VIII shows the latter part of 36 to be as true as the beginning. The full vibratory force of this name is 69, the meaning of which is:

This number is called "The Crown of Mars" and is one of fortune, honor and fame.

As "David" the Duke of Windsor is 2:

Gentle by nature, imaginative, artistic and romantic . . . is restless and unsettled; lack of continuity in plans and ideas; lack of self-confidence; oversensitive; is easily despondent; melancholy if not in happy surroundings.

And he manifests a 14 to those who call him by this name:

The number of everlasting movement and combination of sexuality, revolution, motion, energy, indecision, temperance, trial and dangers from the natural forces, of ignorance and forgetfulness . . . fortunate for dealing with money, speculation and changes in business, but the great risk and danger attached to it comes from the action and foolhardiness of others . . . regeneration and advancement to something higher than the mere physical . . .

Edward's date of birth is in the seventh period of the year and therefore his most fortunate days of the week are Sunday and Monday. Although he is born with other vibrations favorable financially, yet the period of the year of his birth, according to Cheiro, does not offer so much financially. He says, "As a class they are not as a rule so lucky in money matters as people born under the other numbers." People born at this period of the year are:

Associated with water; owners or captains of ships; very independent, original and have strongly marked individualities. They love change and travel; are restless; would, if they could, visit foreign countries; very much interested in the affairs of far-off lands; like books on travel; have great amount of knowledge of the world at large; often make extremely good writers, painters or poets but sooner or later show in all undertakings a peculiar philosophical outlook on life; have peculiar religious ideas; dislike to follow the beaten path; are dreamers; intuitive, clairvoyant; peculiar magnetism over others; have good ideas about business but seldom carry them out.

Possibly no king before Edward or since his abdication ever traveled so extensively to far-off lands by sea as did he. By the changes he made during his short reign it showed he "dislikes to follow the beaten path."

Born in the sixth month, Edward was affected by the 6 the first twenty-seven years of his life, the meaning of which is:

This number makes more friends than any other except 5. 6 loves beautiful things; makes artistic homes; admires paintings, statuary, rich colors and is fond of music. The wealthy who vibrate with 6 are very generous to art and artists; they find pleasure in entertaining their friends and desire to make all about them happy, but they cannot tolerate jealousy and discord. The angry 6 will die fighting for whatever cause he upholds and will brook no opposition. 6 is considered extremely magnetic and can attract others; is loved and often worshiped by those subordinate to him, but 6 is very determined in carrying out plans; at times 6 is obstinate and unyielding unless 6 becomes deeply attached; then no slave could be more devoted.

Another thing I have especially noticed with 6; its possessor manifests good health. Edward undoubtedly experienced good health the first twenty-seven years of his life. Those acquainted with him while he was Prince of Wales will readily recognize how well the foregoing relates to him. It was during this period of his life that he first met his wife, Wallis Warfield, the present Duchess of Windsor, and it is widely known to what extent Edward went for the woman he loved. It cannot be denied that he made many friends at this time and that he was fond of pleasure, fond of entertaining friends, and that he desired to make all about him happy. It is also known how magnetic he was, attracting others to him, but that he was very determined in carrying out his plans, obstinate and unyielding.

The first 22 years of his life show Edward losing through trust in others a great deal, but in 1916 there came to him the first turning point of his life, between the ages of 22 and 23. In 1916 he received from men in high places great recogdition. They saw in him what this change of cycle brought him in 1916, i.e., 23:

Cleverness and quick brain; learns easily; is daring; gifted in speech and writing. (17 plus 6th month = 23.)

And they were willing to aid him in the great task of preparation for the kingly office. An exceptional high peak of recognition lasted from 1916 to 1921.

After 1921 Edward was 27 years of age, and the day of his birth took the lead in his life until he shall attain the age of 54. In 1933 another change of cycle took place. From 1921 until 1933 Edward was affected by Number 40. There is indication that he became more careful and specialized in methodical living and that he showed signs of being less obstinate and of taking things more easily. 1933 found his personal and individual matters better affected in the southwest.

The Prince of Wales became King Edward VIII of Great Britain and his dominions across the seas January 20, 1936. That year added together comes to 19, and 19 plus 23, that now affects him most in all individual and personal matters, adds to 42, which means:

Strongly religious and leans toward the ministry; consecrated in helping others; follows professional work . . . The bad aspect is baseness and treachery.

Becoming official head of the Church of England, Edward had much to do with the Archbishop of Canterbury and other prelates, and after becoming king his first radio address carried with it the tone that he had "consecrated himself in helping others" and he did "follow professional work." We all know the opposition he encountered with the prime minister, archbishop and lords. Much we never heard; possibly sometime we shall. The period of the year of his birth affected him in 1936, a 26 (19 plus 7 equals 26):

Unsuccessful partnerships . . . treachery and evil; foreshadowing disasters brought about by association with others; ruin by bad speculations, by partnerships, unions and bad advice. Therefore it is advisable to watch the path one is treading in the future.

With this to combat abdication was inevitable, and he was succeeded by his brother, the Duke of York, December 18, 1936.

This year, 1940, ought to be an especially good year for Edward. (14 plus 23 equals 37; 14 plus 7 equals 21; 14 plus 51 equals 65.)

37—Good and fortunate friendships in love and in combinations connected with the opposite sex; also a good number for partnerships of all kinds; in connection with the future it is most fortunate.

21—Denotes elevation in life and general success; victory after a long fight; the number of . . . success; 21 means power, individuality, advancement, honor, general fortune; especially fortunate when found in connection with future events; 21 represents super-victory—the supreme success of the human soul—the union of wisdom and love at the end of a path of human effort realizing perfection and task well done; considered one of the most mystic of numbers that represents the supreme goal toward which all work.

65—This number is considered "holy." It is said to give powerful patrons and a happy marriage, but it is also a number of hurts and dangers.

The Duke of Windsor is a title that carries with it a 31 state of mental vibration, 43 personality and a full vibratory force in his title of 74.

State of mental vibration (31):

Not fortunate from a material standpoint; often selfish; self-contained; lonely and isolated from others.

Vibration of the personality (43):

In all aspects 43 is connected with military activities, for it is symbolized by signs of revolution, upheaval, strife, failure and prevention. For the future it means possible upheavals, strife and failure of plans; some danger from war and firearms, but victory can be obtained only through positive action. 43 is considered an unfortunate number. It is symbolized as "The Death Point."

Since becoming Duke of Windsor Prince Edward lived in Austria which has since been annexed to Germany; a land that experienced much upheaval. Edward, on behalf of his friend, Rothschild, interceded with Adolf Hitler, under whose order this nobleman was taken into custody. He took court action against a writer for libel. He has constantly worked to have the British government give recognition of the status of a princess to his wife, the Duchess of Windsor, who is not at present considered equal in rank to him but is simply addressed "Your Grace," while he is addressed "Your Royal Highness." And he has been connected with "military activities" since the beginning of hostilities. Of course the foregoing affects him as the Duke of Windsor as far as his personal impression on those who think of and know him as such.

Vibratory force in full, 74 (74 added equals 11):

Warns against hidden dangers, trial and treachery from others; great difficulties to contend with.

Our second example:

ADOLF HITLER
FÜHRER OF THE GERMAN REICH

Born April 20, 1889—50

	26
1889	1915
27	16
1916	1931
27	14
1943	1945

The number of the German leader's birth path, which indicates what he brought into the world, is 50, the meaning of which is as follows:

It has been said of 50 that it "need have no fear of fierce animals or firearms and it is not marked for untimely death, although death's shadow may touch him." 50 lives a life of very intense and constant activity that tends to great success and renown and many occupations. 50 tends to bring people into public life, feasts, crowds, and makes its possessor eloquent in speech; gives keen sight and hearing, magnetism, clear brilliant eyes; brings power, leadership; makes one a commander, dominating and dispensing law, justice and order.

I think we can all agree that for the most part the above has been fulfilled.

While serving the German Kaiser throughout the World War Adolf Hitler was wounded in 1916. He was also gassed and temporarily blinded in 1918. Indeed death's shadow touched him, yet he survived to prove that he "is not marked for untimely death, although death's shadow may touch him."

Born at Braunau on the Inn, Upper Danube, of an old Upper-Austrian peasant and artisan family of the Catholic faith, Hitler received his education in the "secondary schools at Linz and Graz, studied painting and architecture in Vienna, settled at Munich in 1912 to study painting, supporting himself as artisan in building trade. Volunteer in the German army, 1914; wounded, 1916; gassed and temporarily blinded, 1918; Iron Cross, 1st Class and 2nd Class, Western Front; after Revolution of 1918-19 devoted himself to politics, becoming president and leader of the National Socialist German Workers' Party; took part in the rising of November 9, 1923, and was sentenced to fortress detention until December 1924; refounded National Socialist Movement, February 27, 1925; appointed chancellor of the German Reich by President Paul von Hindenburg, January 30, 1933; member of the Reichstag from March 5, 1933; became head of the German state by law, August 1, 1934; confirmed by referendum, August 19, 1934. Publication: Mein Kampf, vol. I, 1925, vol. II, 1927. Address: Wilhelmstr. 77, Berlin, W.S.T.: 11 6191; Ober-Salzburg, Berchtesgaden, Bavaria." Such is the account given by Who's Who—1939, published by The Macmillan Company of New York and Adam & Charles Black of London.

I think it is plainly seen that Adolf Hitler has lived "a life of very intense and constant activity that tends to great success and renown and many occupations" and that he has been brought "into public life, feasts, crowds"; that he is "eloquent in speech" and given "keen sight and hearing, magnetism, clear brilliant eyes"; nor can we overlook the marked fulfillment of the prediction that 50 brings him—"power, leadership; makes one a commander, dominating and dispensing law, justice and order."

Hitler's date of birth is in that period of the year with the zodiacal sign of Aries less strongly (see chart on page 75)—the sun (1). He is also affected by the planetary influence of Venus (6) with the zodiacal sign of Taurus, positive. He is therefore a 1-6 man, embracing the influences of two periods of the year, but since he is affected with the 6 positively and with the 1 less strongly it follows that Venus, the planet of 6, was the most important at the time of his birth. The most important days of the week when ruled by Venus, or the period of the 6, are Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, but since 1 or the sun affects him less strongly we might say that Sunday and Monday can be considered the next-best days. Let me once more give the meaning of 6 that we may see how true it affects Hitler:

This number makes more friends than any other except 5. 6 loves beautiful things; makes artistic homes; admires paintings, statuary, rich colors, and is fond of music. The wealthy who vibrate with 6 are very generous to art and artists; they find pleasure in entertaining their friends and desire to make all about them happy, but they cannot tolerate jealousy and discord. The angry 6 will die fighting for whatever cause he upholds and will brook no opposition. 6 is considered extremely magnetic and can attract others; people with this number are loved and often worshiped by those subordinate to them, but 6 is very determined in carrying out plans; at times a 6 person is obstinate and unyielding unless 6 becomes deeply attached; then no slave can be more devoted.

Next we shall consider what less strongly affects him, namely, 1, the number of the sun:

Number 1 means that which is creative, individual and positive. Born in this period an individual has the underlying principle of being in his or her work that makes it creative, inventive, strongly individual, definite in views, but that person is also more or less obstinate and determined in everything he or she undertakes. All born within the positive aspect of Leo from July 21 to August 20 and the less strong aspect of Aries from March 21 to April 28 come under this period, and these people have qualities given to all Number 1 people "in a distinctly more marked degree." These people are ambitious; they dislike being restricted. Number 1 people always rise in their professions and occupations whatever they may be and wherever they are, for it is their desire to become the head of the business they are in. When they become heads of departments they make themselves respected and keep their authority over their subordinates . . .

It is said that although Number 1 is good it is not understood properly by Number 6. With the 1 and 6 coming together we cannot fail to read the meaning of 16:

A number of weakness, subversion, accident, catastrophes, earthquakes and explosions; the most destructive vibration; defeat and danger; danger signal; calls for caution; danger of defeat of plans; disappointments in love or marriage when found in one's birth path; warning of strange fatality. Symbol—the shattered tower or citadel . . . man falling with a crown on his head. Lightning has struck the tower—"ruin . . . after evil has prevailed."

You will recall that Hitler's birth-path number carries this meaning:

"Need have no fear of . . . firearms and . . . is not marked for untimely death, although death's shadow may touch him" . . .

What I have quoted for 16 does not contradict 50, but 16 does show that Adolf Hitler would have brought to him "disappointments in love or marriage . . . and explosions"; that "some strange fatality" awaits him and that there will be danger of accidents and defeat of his plans, for the symbol of 16 is the "tower struck by lightning from which a man is falling with a crown on his head," and it is called "the shattered citadel."

Mr Hitler was born in April, the fourth month. The first twenty-seven years of his life were affected by this number taking the lead in his life, the meaning of which is:

4 indicates work accomplished through will, experience, action and realization; is deliberate or cautious type; shows steadiness; inclined to view everything from an opposite angle to others which brings opposition and secret enemies; 4 rebels against rules and regulations and would reverse the order of things even in communities and governments; attracted to social questions and reforms of all kinds; very positive and also highly strung and sensitive; easily wounded in feelings; rather indifferent as to accumulation of wealth, but when acquired surprises others by the way 4 employs it and the use 4 puts to it; easily becomes despondent and melancholy; inclined to feel lonely and isolated.

1915 and 1916 were the first changes of cycles in Hitler's life. The first 26 years he had also the influence of 30, which means:

Belongs to the mental plane; therefore it is neither fortunate nor unfortunate for either depends on the mental outlook of the individual with this number; it can be all-powerful but it is just as often indifferent; it is likely to put all material things on one side—

not because it has to but because it wishes to do so; it is strong or weak as it is used. This mental outlook will raise the individual above the normal horizon and is excellent for handling large affairs; indicates love of theaters, dramatics, writing plays, love of music, dramatic ability, loves children and animals; shows skill as a physician or surgeon as 30 is connected with drugs, chemistry, anatomy and medicine; 30 is free and brilliant when used rightly; yet in the lowest aspect it brings treachery and disloyalty.

The account given by Who's Who in many ways coincides with this finding. There we read that before 1915 he "studied painting and architecture . . . supporting himself as artisan in building trade." A 30 vibration dealing with the mental particularly would give him an artistic trend of thought. He would have ability along this line. I do not know the personal life of Mr Hitler well enough to say whether or not everything I find for him coincides with the official biography of his life, but I proceed according to the fundamentals laid down in this system and leave it with the reader to judge for himself.

1915 found Adolf Hitler in the German army and wounded in 1916; 1915—the termination of the first cycle of his life—and 1916—the change affecting all persons who pass the 27th year of age to come under the influence of the day of birth. 1915 added comes to 16, and 16 plus 4, indicating the fourth month which is the number of the birth path most affecting him at that time, comes to 20.

Before proceeding let us consider the year Hitler entered the army (1914). 1914, when added, comes to 15, and 15 plus 4 equals 19, which is a number having this meaning:

Fortunate and extremely favorable; promises happiness, success, esteem and honor and success in planning for the future.

Possibly in 1914 was Hitler's first step to the fulfillment of 19 that he now experiences as head of the German state. Now let us proceed with his experience in 1915. 1915, when added, comes to 16 and, taking also into consideration the month of his birth that affected him most, then our addition comes to 20, which would be his experience in 1915.

20, called "the awakening," also "the judgment" . . . the call to action for some great purpose, cause or duty; doubtful as far as worldly success is concerned. As for the future there is indication of delays, hindrances to plans and obstacles which can only be conquered through the spiritual side of man's nature.

Undoubtedly this was a critical year for Hitler in many ways. He seems to have been called upon to seek God in Whose hand lies the destiny of every living thing, to show him that "man does not live by bread alone but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Undoubtedly he experienced great temptations of the flesh at this time that caused him to need the grace of God to carry him through. The next year (1916) we find him passing from the month to the day vibration and affected therefore by 20 taking the lead. What would happen between 1915 and 1916 must bring home an experience that would awaken the spiritual side of man's nature. And we find him, at the beginning of his change into a new cycle in 1916, wounded. But he had not only the bitter cup given him. A helpful influence was beginning to be felt also at this time. (1916 adds to 17 plus 20 equals 37.) Beginning in 1916 and lasting for a period of 27 years, until 1943, Hitler is affected by 37, a number which means:

Good and fortunate friendships in love and in combinations connected with the opposite sex; also a good number for partnerships of all kinds; in connection with the future it is most fortunate.

At this time Adolf Hitler must have attained popularity among his fellows and with the faction which he joined. Everything terminated not only as a success then, but in connection with the future it was most fortunate. Nevertheless, until 1943 the number 20 of judgment affects him since the day of his birth (from 1916 until 1943) took the lead in his life, affecting him in all individual and personal matters. And we find 20 again vibrating negatively in 1918. 1918 added comes to 19, and 19 plus 20 equals 39, which means:

... the lower aspect shows cruelty and suffering
... it can go to the lowest depths ...

If he had lived in the southwest Hitler would have escaped the lower aspect of 39. At that year the record shows us that Hitler was gassed and temporarily blinded. But he received the Iron Cross which again brings out the meaning of 39, but in its higher aspect:

Friendship and love.

After the German Revolution of 1918-19 it is said that Hitler devoted himself to politics, becoming president and leader of the National Socialist German Workers' Party. He therefore experienced at this time both aspects of 39—at the beginning the lower aspect; at the end the higher:

But even as it can go to the lowest depths so it can rise to the greatest heights.

Further on in the account we read that he was sentenced to fortress detention until December 1924 for his part in the rising of November 9, 1923. 1923 added comes to 15, and 15 plus 20 equals 35, which includes this meaning:

... in ease may become cruel and tyrannical.

It so happens that the 9th day of November, in fact the 9th day of any month, vibrates negatively for Hitler. 9 plus 20 equals 29, which means:

Denotes uncertainties, treachery and deception of others; foreshadows trials, tribulation and unexpected dangers; unreliable friends; grief and deception caused by members of the opposite sex; warning for future events.

In January of 1933, the 30th, Adolf Hitler was appointed by President Paul von Hindenburg the chancellor of the German Reich. 1933 added equals 16, and 16 plus 20 equals 36, the meaning of which is:

. . . this number brings good influence; it brings authority, power and success to all using their talents rightly . . . calls for service of others . . .

The 30th of the month added to 20 equals 50 which is the number of Hitler's birth path, which means:

. . . tends to great success and renown and many occupations. 50 tends to bring people into public life, feasts, crowds, and makes its possessor eloquent in speech . . . brings power, leadership; makes one a commander, dominating and dispensing law, justice and order.

What has 1940 in store for the Führer? 1940 added comes to 14 plus 20 equals 34—affecting his personal and individual matters.

34 is connected with hidden and mysterious things; it is intuitive and controls the occult; shows a retiring into its own mind; conventional, therefore seldom oversteps; gives a strong religious and spiritual feeling.

It has been repeatedly said that Hitler is inclined to follow the advice of astrologers. This shows a leaning toward the occult. We know he has a retreat in Bavaria. No doubt much time will be spent by him along this line throughout the year. Since Taurus (6) takes the lead in his period of birth we find him awakening with new plans, new purposes; a stronger determination than ever, but there is indication of delays, hindrances to his plans, and it is doubtful as far as worldly success is concerned. Success for Adolf Hitler in 1940 lies along the line of spiritual development. If he comes forward to the German people with plans that show them beyond doubt that he means to deal justly the indication is that he will meet with a favorable response, but to use an iron hand at this time would do himself harm. It seems that his mental vibration with

Winston Churchill (= 15 plus 14 = 29) would be as the numbers imply—29, the meaning of which is:

. . . uncertainties, treachery and deception of others; foreshadows trials, tribulation and unexpected dangers; unreliable friends . . . warning for future events.

Let us consider next the name:

1	7		1	5		14
ADOLF HITLER
4	3	8	5	4	3	2
						29

The mental vibration being 14, the meaning is as follows:

The number of everlasting movement and combination of sexuality, revolution, motion, energy, indecision, temperance, trial and dangers from the natural forces, of ignorance and forgetfulness; a number that must act with prudence and the possessor must use caution, since as a rule owing to others' foolhardiness, the action of others, the possessor of 14 seems open to risk and danger. . . . 14 brings a combination of people and things, and if the possessor of 14 acts with caution and prudence he or she can be fortunate for dealing with money, speculation and changes in business. 14 is the number of regeneration and advancement to something higher than the mere physical; this number is sex raised to enthusiasm, affection, love and devotion, or, according to the lower aspect of 14, it is degraded to lust, passion and gratifications. 14 profits from aims pure and high followed persistently.

The personal impression, 29:

Denotes uncertainties, treachery and deception of others; foreshadows trials, tribulation and unexpected dangers; unreliable friends; grief and deception caused by members of the opposite sex; warning for future events.

Full vibratory force of name, 43:

In all aspects 43 is connected with military activities, for it is symbolized by . . . revolution, upheaval, strife, failure and prevention. For the future it means possible upheavals, strife and failure of plans; victory can be obtained only through positive action. 43 is considered an unfortunate number. It is symbolized as "The Death Point."

Summary:

When we consider the present events in Europe we cannot overlook the vibratory numbers of Adolf Hitler. He has a different man to deal with in Winston Churchill than he had with Neville Chamberlain, who vibrated with him a 33. Mr Churchill has a strong personal magnetism. It is easy for him to obtain favors from others. By Hitler's acts it is evident that he senses strongly his full vibratory number, 43—"victory can be obtained only through positive action." There is no delay with him. He senses strongly a call from the "voice within" to rise above the mere physical and he does crave affection, love and devotion that he seems never really to have satisfied. A partner in life that could win the confidence of Hitler and become the center of his affections would be able to change the course of his life. When he becomes discouraged over what little he feels he has gotten out of life he slips back to the lower and becomes a victim of those who would use him to carry out their evil designs. His mind is a combination of sexuality, revolution, energy, indecision, temperance, ignorance and forgetfulness. And 1940 does not offer him much to incline him mentally. 1940 added is 14 plus 14 mental vibration equals 28:

Full of contradictions; a person of great promise and possibilities likely to see all taken away unless he carefully provides for the future . . . loss through trust in others . . .

There is a possibility of another ready to step in his place and weaken his position, for this year shows that personally he might lose through trust in others, although this loss of personal position might not affect his nation so long as his party remained in power.

With a 29 personal impression Adolf Hitler can hardly possess a personality that is charming. 29 is an unstable number, and with a full vibratory force of 43 we have a man at home in his present position. As long as he remains in power we must expect him engaged in some form of military activities continually.

Born on the 20th, Adolf Hitler this year draws a 34 vibration:

This number is connected with hidden and mysterious things; it is intuitive and controls the occult . . .

But we must take this in connection with his 28 mental vibration for 1940. Ordinarily he would not experience a good mental vibration with 28 this year, but when we consider that 34 has to do with his personal affairs through the unalterable birth path it follows that we must expect strange things we would not ordinarily expect. Surely he is a man of destiny.

Third example:

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

32ND PRESIDENT U.S.A.

Born January 30, 1882—50

	19
1882	1901
27	11
1909	1912
27	13
1936	1925
27	17
1963	1942

The number of Mr Roosevelt's birth path is the same as that of Adolf Hitler—50. At the beginning of his first term of office the President had an attempt made upon his life, yet no harm came to him; until now he has survived many threats. Prognosticators have put forward predictions that his life will end at the hands of an assassin, but I see no such fate for Mr Roosevelt. He "is not marked for untimely death, although death's shadow may touch him." It is also true that he "lives a life of very intense and constant activity that tends to great success and renown and many occupations." It is a fact that he has been brought "into public life, feasts, crowds" and that he is "eloquent in speech." He is mentally alert, magnetic. We know it to be true that he exercises "power, leadership," and that he is unquestionably "a commander, dominating and dispensing law, justice and order."

The President was born in the eighth period—negative, called in astrology the sign of Aquarius with the planetary influence of Saturn. His important days are Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Saturday is the most important day for him of the three.

It is well to remember here what I stated under Period Number 8:

Saturn is called the Planet of Fate and from earliest ages it, represented by number 8, with two circles or two worlds—the spiritual and the material—has brought into the experience of men and nations the hand of fate.

It cannot be denied that Mr Roosevelt came into office at one of the most critical times in the history of our country. And I might add here that he, being the 32nd President, finds it a coincidence that the number of the birth path of the United States is 32 also. (July 4, 1776 equals 32—7 plus 4 plus 21). As 32nd President he is true to his number, for 32 means:

32 is magical and associated usually with combinations of people or nations; most fortunate when it holds to its own judgment and opinions, else plans are likely to become wrecked by other people's stupidity and stubbornness; 32 is usually a messenger of good luck in connection with future events; 32 brings many friends, social and business connections; can easily turn from one subject to another; a number of action; 32 gives easy speech and quick mastery of foreign languages; its bad aspects indicate loose morals and lack of spirituality.

I believe this gives a pretty fair description of Mr Roosevelt's experience as 32nd President. When we consider the nation's moral and spiritual status since he became president, from my observation at least, I believe we will recognize a great decline in this direction.

Reading over the meaning of 8, the reader will see that:

8 is either a great success or great failure with no happy medium; when ambitious 8 aims for public life or governmental responsibility and holds often very high positions that involve great sacrifice but, often misunderstood, feels very lonely at heart. . . . 8 is faithful and will stand for what it believes to be right regardless of opposition. 8 is a number that can give an impression the opposite of what it really is. 8 has feeling for the persecuted. It may appear cold but 8 is really kindhearted. The higher aspect of 8 indicates philosophic thought, religious devotion, concentration of purpose, zeal for any cause espoused, but the lower side represents upheaval, revolution, anarchy, waywardness and all kinds of eccentricities.

It is to be understood that the number of the period of one's birth is modified or emphasized by the numbers affecting one's birth path and the number of one's signature. I think the foregoing fits pretty much into the experience of Mr Roosevelt. His great battle against infantile paralysis, and how he, in spite of this great handicap, has risen to the highest office in the land, is an indication of "concentration of purpose." We all know his zeal for the New Deal, and, although it cannot be said the President has gone to the extreme, he does show a leaning toward the oppressed and a willingness to help the underdog. He shows a tendency to keep pace with modern times; is a liberal in his views, even to his recognition of Soviet Russia and his aid to repeal the prohibition amendment. In the face of great difficulties Mr Roosevelt knows how to hide his feelings and he allows people to think what they will.

Mr Roosevelt professes the Christian faith of the Protestant Episcopal persuasion. There is every indication that he is sincere and has deep reverence for God as Jesus Christ reveals Him. His tendency is to lay more emphasis on a practical faith that is valuable to society as a whole by establishing a better understanding among men than to concern himself with deep theological matters. I believe that the President is as ardent in his religious convictions as any man can possibly be, but his convictions are not the ordinary convictions of religionists.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt was born in January, the first month; consequently, until his 27th birthday, 1 was the leading number. He was:

Creative, strongly individual, positive, definite in view, inventive, determined, obstinate, ambitious, and disliked restraint.

From his 27th year to his 54th Mr Roosevelt was affected for his leading number by 30. His mental outlook was a determining factor in his life. Had he not the courage and the will to press on in the face of seemingly overwhelming odds in this period of his life he never would have reached the heights he has reached. In connection with number 30 we read:

This mental outlook will raise the individual above the normal horizon and is excellent for handling large affairs.

Since 1936 Mr Roosevelt has had for his leading number the number of the year of his birth, 1882, which, when added, comes to number 19, and this number will lead him until his 81st year; the meaning of 19 is:

Fortunate and extremely favorable; promises happiness, success, esteem and honor and success in planning for the future.

Such is the favorable outlook for Mr Roosevelt in a general sense in the years before him; a marked contrast with what he experienced the second 27 years of his life.

The first change of cycle happened when Mr Roosevelt was 19 years of age (1901). Beginning that year and continuing on for 8 years, there is indication he had great anxiety and had been the victim of others' intrigue. Mr Roosevelt's birth path numbers 50 which, when added to the current year (1905 or 15), comes to 65, a number which has this meaning:

It is said to give powerful patrons and a happy marriage. . . .

In that year Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Anna Eleanor Roosevelt were married. In 1907 he was admitted to the bar. 1907 added comes to 17, plus 1, the number which affected him most until he attained his 27th year, comes to 18. 18 has also this meaning:

. . . lawyers often are represented by 18 . . .

The vibration this year was favorable for his admission to the bar.

The change of leading numbers took place in 1909, from the number of the month to the number of the day of Mr Roosevelt's birth. From then on until 1936 he was affected most by 30. But in 1912 there came the next change of cycle which had lasted since 1901. From 1909 until 1912, a period of 3 years, his experiences affecting his personal and individual matters (more or less modified from year to year) was (1909 added equals 19 plus 30 equals 49) the meaning of 49:

. . . tends to lead onward and upward; a universal diplomat . . .

There began at this time an influence that brought him into prominence politically. Within this period (1910) he was elected and re-elected (1912) to the New York State Senate. From 1912 until 1925 (the next change of cycle for 13 years) his experience pertaining to individual and personal matters was affected by 43 (13 plus 30 equals 43), the meaning of which is:

In all aspects 43 is connected with military activities . . . some danger from war and firearms, but victory can be obtained only through positive action. . . .

As early in this cycle as 1913 he became assistant secretary of the navy. In 1918 Mr Roosevelt was in charge of inspections of United States naval forces in European waters and of demobilization in Europe in 1919. In 1925 there came another cycle which changed somewhat with the change of leading number from the day of birth to the number of the year, 1936. From 1925 until 1936, a period of 11 years, he was still affected mostly by the day of birth. (1925 added equals 17 plus 30 equals 47.) Within this period things were unstable, yet he was agreeable and tactful, discriminating and co-operative as Number 47 indicates, which qualities were helpful to him during this unstable period, enabling him to take advantage of the more favorable years when they did come within this period. He was governor of the state of New York from 1929 until 1933. 1929 added equals 21 plus 30 equals 51.

. . . leader in any cause; promises advancement in all undertakings; very powerful . . .

In 1932 Mr Roosevelt became President of the United States and was re-elected in 1936. 1932 added equals 15 plus 30 equals 45, which number means:

45 loves to teach and serve as well as help others; it punishes wickedness, lifts the fallen and the distressed; indicates preparedness against emergencies . . . activities connected with groups and organizations . . .

From then on Mr Roosevelt applied himself to "lift the fallen and the distressed" through a New Deal. Senate investigations followed to curb the activities of syndicates and "punish wickedness." His inaugural address was full of 45, indicating his desire as the new leader to "teach and serve." In 1936 Mr Roosevelt began a new term of office. In that year his leading number changed from the day of the month of his birth to 19, the number of the year. (1882 added equals 19.) 19 plus 19 equals 38 (19 is the addition of 1936) and 38 means:

Sometimes brings quarrels, misunderstandings . . . where there is harmony it increases it, but where there is discord it brings lies, deceit and falsehood. At best its power is considered unstable and therefore should be watched especially when found in connection with future events . . .

The campaign affecting Mr Roosevelt's re-election certainly brought this out. To his followers Mr Roosevelt was the savior of his country, and their praises of his policies sounded from shore to shore. But the opposition went as far as it dared to disprove what Mr Roosevelt's followers said.

The uncertainty of the international situation makes 1940 a crucial year for this country. Should there be an outbreak involving America in 1940 I believe it safe to say that those responsible for it will find Mr Roosevelt equal to the situation.

We shall now consider the name
FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT
This name carries with it the number of his destiny. It is his name of destiny, and the vowels of the name indicate the talents he was born with:

Healthy and brings long life, friendship and love;
with 39 live in the southwest and face southwest;
lower aspect shows cruelty and suffering, but even as it can go to the lowest depths so it can rise to the greatest heights.

It is a native characteristic of the man to be friendly and kind. He was actually born that way. It was his healthy mental state that overcame for him his physical handicap, and he is destined to live long, but it would be advantageous for him to live in and face the southwest rather than the present location of his home. He was born capable of rising "to the greatest heights."

The name of Mr Roosevelt's adoption is

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

Mental vibration (26):

... strength is given through control, experience and wisdom; it is considered a good number for diplomacy and secret service; makes one an energetic and compelling speaker ... tends "to the accumulation of wealth and worldly goods" ... leadership; the number of self-confidence, although some unusual event may be needed to develop this quality ... bad aspect foreshadowing disasters brought about by association with others; ruin by bad speculations, by partnerships, unions and bad advice ...

We see then that Mr Roosevelt's harm would come from too-close association. I believe that the foregoing pretty much reveals the vibration affecting his mental state.

Personal vibration (47):

... agreeable and tactful, discriminating and cooperative ... can handle money, statistics, and makes a good banker ...

I have not as yet had the privilege of meeting Mr
Roosevelt personally; therefore I cannot corroborate my finding firsthand. Nevertheless, from hearing his radio addresses and paying particular attention to the manner in which he expresses himself I am inclined to believe this is true.

Full vibratory force of name (73):

The meaning of this number is "Wisdom".

The family name "Roosevelt" carries a hereditary number.

7 7 5 5 24
ROOSEVELT

Mental vibration (24):

Gains through the opposite sex; warns against danger from falls, especially from a horse; promises assistance and association of those of rank and position with one's plans; considered a fortunate number; gain through influential women.

Undoubtedly Mr Roosevelt's marriage to Mrs Eleanor Roosevelt was a big advantage to him in attaining the heights he has attained. On the other hand, Mrs Roosevelt, herself a member of the Roosevelt family by birth, gained through her marriage a position in life she would not have attained without her husband. The Roosevelts have always been prominent members of society. There is every indication they received assistance and association of those of rank and position with their plans.

Why the United States of America became a nation and therefore the purpose of its existence is told by the birth path, 32, which means:

32 is magical and associated usually with combinations of people or nations; most fortunate when it holds to its own judgment and opinions, else plans are likely to become wrecked by other people's stupidity and stubbornness; 32 is usually a messenger of good luck in connection with future events; 32 brings many friends, social and business connections; can easily turn from one subject to another; a number of action; 32 gives easy speech and quick mastery of foreign languages; its bad aspects indicate loose morals and lack of spirituality.

This country for years has been spoken of as the "melting pot" for Europe. All nations are represented here. The bad thing about it is that after becoming citizens men still cling in spirit to their native lands and they organize themselves into groups that are more or less swayed by the policies of the fatherland or the mother country as the case may be.

The United States has always sounded in the ears of the people of Europe "the messenger of good luck in connection with future events." Our country has been an asylum for the oppressed since it was founded. A more friendly spirit may be found here than in the countries of Europe and Asia. In this republic men enjoy, under the constitution, equal rights, and there are no caste systems or "blue bloods," at least

America has been for some time past "the land of jazz." Men came to our shores to escape religious persecution, and the tendency has been for our people to go to the other extreme of indifference to authority.

The United States is destined to have a bright future. 32 "is usually a messenger of good luck in connection with future events." And the reason for it is due to the fact that "32 brings many friends, social and business connections." It seems that the purpose for founding this republic is that it would be as a kind of haven for men of all nations, since "32 is magical and associated usually with combinations of people or nations." Since 1857 the birth-path number has taken the lead in the affairs of this nation.

Until 1803 our country was affected most by the month of its birth—July, the seventh month. 7 is the number of struggle and interest in maritime affairs.

7 has good ideas about business but seldom carries them out; is interested in matters concerning the sea, and in trade often becomes merchants dealing with foreign countries . . .

In those days before the railroads men naturally looked to the waterways. Until 1783 this country was engaged in its war for independence, even though it had declared the colonies free in 1776. The end of the first national cycle took place in 1797 when the Constitution of the United States was framed, a period of 21 years since the Declaration of Independence was signed. The second cycle of 21 years lasted from 1848, the year of the Mexican War, until 1869, the close of the War of Secession and beginning of the reconstruction period in the United States. The third cycle of 21 years began in 1893, the year of a great financial panic, and lasted until 1914, the year of the European war that from the beginning affected the conditions of this nation. Now the fourth cycle of 21 began in 1929, the year of the stock-market crash, and will end in 1950. According to Mary Adams, 21 "represents supervictory, the supreme success of the human soul . . . mastery on three planes, and typifies the union of love and wisdom; the end of the path of human effort and the perfection of tasks well done; prophecy fulfilled." At the end of the first 21 cycle came the Constitution, one of the greatest works of man. At the end of the second we started to build on a firmer foundation than ever before a nation born anew, destined to become one of the greatest powers on earth. At the close of the third a big financial boom began in the United States. And when 1950 arrives we can look for a big change in the financial system for the better. 1950 or 15 plus 32 birth path equals 47, the meaning of which is:

. . . can handle money, statistics, and make an excellent banker. . . .

4 has always played an important part in the internal affairs of our country. 4 is the number of the day of our nation's birth.

4 rebels against rules and regulations; would reverse the order of things even in communities and governments; attracted to social questions and reforms of all kinds; very positive in views; more or less indifferent as to the accumulation of wealth, and when wealth is acquired 4 surprises others by the way it employs it or the use put to it . . .

Before 1830 it was more true of this country than today, because from 1803 until 1830 the leading number of all others was 4. The prohibition amendment is one evidence of American attempt to social reform. The indifference as to the accumulation of wealth, of course, lies not with the idea that Americans do not desire wealth, but the indifference lies with the fact that so many, I am sorry to say, are willing to employ most any kind of unscrupulous methods, racketeering, etc., to gain what they desire.

Looking over the history of our country, we cannot overlook the fact that the greatest sacrifices have been made during the 21 cycles. Possibly this last one since 1929, in many respects, has taken the lead. They deal with the most critical times and our greatest wars; by that I mean the wars that affected us most have been during the 21 cycles.

21 is a number of great promise, but it is absolutely essential that the individual whose number is 21 make a very big sacrifice. A strong will, unselfish devotion and consecration are involved. Since this number expresses a spiritual attainment that stands for the highest in man, anything contrary to its principle will only hinder the blessing to those who must finish their course. The symbol is called by different names—the world, the universe and the crown of the Magi. Reward comes to those whose life was well spent, a victory after a long fight.

We need not expect to escape a great conflict before 1950. Dealing with the internal affairs of our nation this year, 1940, it looks very critical. 1940 added equals 14 plus 4 equals 18, the meaning of which is as follows:

Symbolizes the materialism of the world warring against the spiritual side of man's nature. 18 is generally associated with bitter quarrels, even family ones; also with war, social strife and revolt; 18 has also been sometimes considered the number of making money and position through war, and it brings the warning of treachery, deception by others. 18 warns of danger from storms, water, fires and explosions . . .

The above deals with internal affairs, but the great period of distress may come sometime later. We have, according to my finding, ten more years before we have passed through this 21 cycle.

WASHINGTON'S VISION

An account of Washington's Vision, recorded by Wesley Bradshaw in the Woodstock, Ill., Democrat, June 27, 1861, came into my hands. Mr Bradshaw tells of his meeting with Anthony Sherman on July 4, 1859, in Independence Square before Independence Hall, who told him in his 91st year the story Washington related in the presence of Mr Sherman to his orderly, as follows:

"After a preliminary conversation which lasted some half-hour Washington, gazing upon his companion with a strange look of dignity, which he alone could command, said to the latter:

"I do not know whether it was owing to the anxiety of my mind or what, but this afternoon as I was sitting at this very table, engaged in preparing a dispatch, something in the apartment seemed to disturb me. Looking up, I beheld standing opposite me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, third and even a fourth time did I repeat the question, but I received no answer from my mysterious visitor other than a slight raising of her eyes. By this time I felt a strange sensation creeping through me; I would have risen, but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered volition impossible. I essayed to address her, but my tongue had become paralyzed. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily, vacantly, at my unknown visitant. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming filled with sensations and grew luminous; everything around me appeared more airy and yet even more distinct to my sight than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or, rather, to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think; I did not reason; I did not move; all were alike, impossible. I was only conscious of gazing fixedly, vacantly, at my companion. Presently I heard a voice saying,

"Son of the Republic, look and learn!" While at the same time my companion extended her arm and forefinger eastward. I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance, rising fold upon fold. This gradually disappeared, and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay, stretched out in one vast plain, all the countries of the world—Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw, rolling and tossing between Europe and America, the billows of the Atlantic; and between Asia and America, the Pacific.

"Son of the Republic," said the mysterious voice as before, "look and learn."

"At that moment I beheld a dark shadowy being, like an angel, standing, or, rather, floating in mid-air between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand, he cast some upon America with his right, while he cast upon Europe some with his left. Immediately a dark cloud arose from each of these countries and joined in mid-ocean. For a while it remained stationary and then moved slowly westward, until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning now gleamed throughout intervals, and I heard the smothered groans of the American people. A second time the angel dipped from the ocean and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean, into whose heaving waves it sank from view. A third time I heard the mysterious voice saying,

““Son of the Republic, look and learn.” I cast my eyes upon America and beheld villages, towns and cities springing up one after another, until the whole land from the Atlantic to the Pacific was dotted with them. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying,

““Son of the Republic, the end of a century cometh—look and learn.”

““At this the dark shadowy angel turned his face southward, and from Africa I saw an ill-omened specter approaching our land. It flitted slowly and heavily over every village, town and city of the latter, the inhabitants of which presently set themselves in battle array, one against the other. As I continued looking I saw a bright angel on whose brow rested a crown of light, on which was traced the word Union, bearing the American flag, which he placed between the divided nation and said, ““Remember! ye are brethren!”

““Instantly the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons, became friends once more and united around the national standard. And again I heard the mysterious voice, saying,

““Son of the Republic, the second peril is passed—look and learn!”

““And I beheld the villages, towns and cities of America increased in size and number, till at last they covered all the land from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and their inhabitants became as countless as the stars in heaven or the sand upon the seashore. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying,

““Son of the Republic, the end of a century cometh; look and learn.”

““At this the dark and shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth and blew three distinct blasts and, taking water from the ocean, sprinkled it out upon Europe, Asia and Africa. Then my eyes looked upon a fearful scene! From each of these countries arose thick black clouds, which soon joined into one; and through this mass gleamed a dark red light, by which I saw hordes of armed men who, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sailed by the sea to America, which country was presently enveloped in the volume of the cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country and pillage and burn the villages, cities and towns which I had beheld springing up. As my ears listened to the thundering of cannon, clashing of swords and shouts and cries of a million in mortal combat I again heard the mysterious voice saying,

““Son of the Republic, look and learn.”

““When the voice had ceased the dark shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth and blew a long and fearful blast. Instantly a light, as from a thousand suns, shone down from above me and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment I saw the angel upon whose forehead still shone the word Union, and who bore our national flag in one hand and a sword in the other, descend from heaven, attended by legions of bright spirits. These immediately joined the inhabitants of America, who I perceived were well-nigh overcome, but who immediately seemed to take courage, again closed up their ranks and renewed the battle. Again, amid the fearful noise of the conflict, I heard a mysterious voice saying:

“““Son of the Republic, look and learn.”

““As the voice ceased the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the villages, towns and cities spring up where they had been before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried in a loud voice to the inhabitants,

“““While the stars remain and the heavens send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the Republic last.”

““And taking from his brow the crown on which blazed the word Union, he placed it upon the standard, while all the people, kneeling, said, “Amen!” The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve; and I saw nothing but the rising, curling white vapor I had first beheld. This also disappearing, I found myself once more gazing upon my mysterious visitor, who in the same mysterious voice I had heard before said:

“““Son of the Republic, what you have seen is thus interpreted: three perils will come upon the Republic. The most fearful is the second, passing which, the whole world united shall never be able to prevail against her. Let every child of the Republic learn to live for his God, his land and Union.”

““With these words the figure vanished. I started from my seat and felt that I had been shown the birth, progress and destiny of the Republic of the United States. In Union she will have her strength, in disunion her destruction.’

“Such, my friends,” continued the venerable narrator, “were the words I heard from Washington’s own lips, and America will do well to profit by them. Let her remember that in Union she has her strength, in disunion is her destruction.”

CHAPTER II

Timely Advice

IN CLOSING, I wish to recall to the reader's mind once more those wonderful words of my friend, Mrs Henderson:

"Never become so scientific or religious that you forget to be human."

You have completed my five-lesson course in numerology, and if you have regarded it seriously you have been applying the principles in your everyday affairs and no doubt you realize you have stepped upon a new field of occult study. But before you tell others about it, adopt a new signature or change your street and city address, let me give you some timely advice.

As I quoted elsewhere in this book I take this opportunity to mention again the warning we have received accompanying the Quaballah:

He who deals with the Quaballah deals with fire. Fire is a good servant but a bad master. With it to serve us we have light and heat. It brightens our homes and gives us cheer. It makes us comfortable. It prepares our food and consumes our rubbish. But let us see what damage an irresponsible individual can do with fire. He can destroy our homes and even end his own life with it. I want my readers to remember this: This system of numerology is in no sense of the word a side step from the great law:

"As ye sow so shall ye reap."

For according to authorities of this teaching, man earned his present birth path before he came, and what will be his birth paths in the future depends entirely upon how well or how poorly he lives this one. Kozminsky says:

"According to Quaballistical teaching all the race of man sinned in their parent Adam, for all are contained in him. Thus the children of Adam were condemned to clothe themselves in material prisons or bodies. From these bodies were they to reach again the lost Paradise. When an earth life was passed the child of earth could proceed from Asiah (world of physical appetites) to Jezirah (world of passions), from Jezirah (world of passions) to Briah (world of reason), but he could not, unless purified from earth grossness, enter the sunlit world of the angels—Aziluth (world of spiritual life)—and had therefore to re-enter the earth again to begin his penance anew . . .”

There is not a number but what has two aspects to it, i.e., a higher and a lower. They who would change from one form of signature to another must always remember that they must take the bitter with the sweet, for with every vibration we take on we find a new path opened up to us. For instance: Number 15 is “a fortunate number for obtaining money, gifts and favors from others.” Nevertheless, “if associated with a 4 or 8, the person with 15 will use any sort of art or even ‘black magic’ to gain what he or she desires.” Here the two aspects confront the person with 15. On the path of 15 he must attract to himself the Divine influences, the nobler things of life. In a word his task is to live in the higher aspect of 15. A 15 vibration is very powerful mentally, strongly occult. In the higher aspect of 15 a person can be a shining light in the world, a blessing to oneself and to others. His good deeds will return to him with a double blessing, and he will go on and on from grace to grace until sometime he meets the Master of his path preparing him for something more beautiful, more satisfying, more glorious. And with the increase of spirituality there comes a diminishing of the effect of the lower aspect in the vibration until it passes into oblivion. He who follows the “inner light,” which is the right as God gives man to see the right, must inevitably experience that peace for which the weary ones sigh; that peace that the world cannot give, for it transcends it. And with this peace comes an equilibrium that is so necessary to progress. But what of the person who follows the lower aspect, who is interested in this teaching only so far as it will give him some hint as to how he can take an unfair advantage of his fellow man? I say, the more he attracts unto himself this condition of thought the easier it will be for him to “gain” in such practice; with the seeming gain he will drop into other wickedness. With the increase of the lower aspect of his vibration the higher becomes weaker in its hold upon him until, like the irresponsible with a fiery torch, he becomes a menace to society and will sometime find that the law of retribution will demand of him an account that he shall reap what he had sowed.

What I mean by the unalterable birth path is this: Man cannot change his birth path nor sidetrack what he came into the world to do if he would be successful; but one thing he can do; he can live, by the grace of God, in the higher aspect of his numbers rather than in the lower.

As I said before, "We need to realize the vastness of wisdom and what little any one person knows in comparison with it." With this newly acquired knowledge you are facing a world of agnosticism, skepticism, carelessness of investigation; a world with people who take hasty conclusions that make them unprepared for judgment; a world of misrepresentation and self-conceit; yes, a world with people who pretend to be interested in your proposition until they draw from you the things that only friends bestow upon those they desire to help and comfort. What is the result? Ridicule and laughter in return for your well-meaning intention. What we want to do is to avoid this; to judge righteous judgment; to "be as wise as serpents but as harmless as doves." Jesus said, "Cast not your pearls before swine or they will turn again and rend you." The same advice holds good with this teaching. Meeting a practical world, our conversations must be along practical lines. Said Solomon, "Words fitly spoken are like apples of gold in pictures of silver." We must never forget our equilibrium; never become fanatical; never keep harping upon the subject to someone who is curious; oftentimes curiosity is deceiving. Until one has studied the subject and practiced it sufficiently, rather than talk a great deal about it to the curious, it would be better to acquaint the inquirer with the name of the book and where it can be obtained. Another thing! Don't go around numerologizing everything you see and hear continually as some do. You will tire yourself, and with such a frame of mind you are certain to speak out of turn. Eat a little and digest it; then eat some more until you have eaten it all; then see what a wonderful experience you will have. There is most assuredly a right way and a wrong manner in reading, studying or applying anything.

Your study and practice of the contents of this book give you a good foundation for further study. There is much I have not mentioned in five lessons; yet I believe you will agree with me that I selected "the meat" of the matter for everyday practical use and have saved the reader much unnecessary reading of information that does not immediately concern him. May my readers find these pages interesting, helpful and instructive.
